Dedicated to:

After you had given a few speeches, he did not even have to be in the room for his presence to be felt. If you stumbled, if you let out a vocalized pause, you could not help but picture Mr. Tate snapping his fingers. Billy Tate hammered perfection into his students until it became a habit.

Habit defined Mr. Tate. He booked the same hotels for every debate tournament (and probably set a record for Marriott Hotel reward points). He knew the best restaurants on every trip and made a tradition to return to them year after year. He grew the Southern Bell Forum—the tournament that MBA hosts annually—into one of the greatest traditions on the speech and debate calendar. He planned events months and years ahead. Likely the only variable in his life was the composition of the Hawaiian Surprise dessert that he always prepared for soup kitchen.

Mr. Tate had an anecdote for every occasion, and could tell humor-packed stories for hours. Yet he could also listen. It was not uncommon for him to spend several hours after school helping one student prepare a speech. He taught students to strive for perfection.

It stands to reason, therefore, that the teams he led enjoyed continued success. He coached multiple national champions and brought the MBA debate team to national prominence, bringing the reputation of the school along with it. Arguably no teacher has brought more recognition to MBA than Coach Tate.

Mr. Tate's legacy, however, is larger than any trophies that he brought back to campus. This yearbook is dedicated to a man who dedicated his life—and over thirty years at MBA alone—to expanding the vocabularies and ambitions of his students. His lectures echo now not through the halls of Lowry but through the minds of his students, and so he continues to speak.

Mr. Billy Tate

"Billy Tate and I shared the same birthdate, the same hometown, and a love for Alabama football (roll tide). Mr. Tate introduced me to competitive debate, an activity that would expand my world far beyond the limited horizons of rural Alabama. Over the course of our 30 plus year relationship, Mr. Tate served as my teacher, advocate, confidante, and mentor. But for me, and for countless others, Billy Tate was my coach. While still an undergraduate, Mr. Tate gave me my first debate coaching job as an assistant coach for the Big Red and would later introduce me to my future employers at Wake Forest and Northwestern. Most importantly, five years ago, Coach was instrumental in recruiting me back to the Hill to serve as his successor. Whatever professional accomplishments I have enjoyed, I know that none of them would have been possible without my coach, the incomparable Mr. Billy Tate."

Roll Red Roll

A strange dynamic defined this year at MBA. At no time in our history has our focus been so outward and inward looking simultaneously. The ever-present construction on campus forced reconciliation between the past traditions, the current transition and the future aspiration. While the student body plugged along, they coexisted with one of the greatest changes in the history of the school. The two new classroom buildings and the opportunities they afford are quietly changing the complexion of the campus – still rooted in tradition but with a modern technological cutting edge.

At the same time, the international opportunities the school has to offer have brought an arsenal of cosmopolitan influences to bare on the culture of the school. Dozens of students engaging in international exchange, symposiums in far-flung locales and language immersion programs have become entirely commonplace. That is a quantum leap in the way the school fits into globalization that has been almost subtle in its onset. The long-term results of these foreign opportunities are just now beginning to appear, but there can be no doubt in their eventual magnitude.

So it was that the time when Montgomery Bell Academy was undergoing the most change in its internal affairs it also saw a shift in the way it interacted with the global community. It was an eventful year, and we may never see another like it.

Service

The MBA Service Club, one of the oldest student groups at the school, has expanded its range of duty and purpose enormously since its founding. Its mission has evolved from running small projects around campus to coordinating and often funding an array of projects across the Nashville community. Each year, students give thousands of hours of their time to make each project a success, extending the scope of the MBA community beyond the school itself.

From recurring projects like Loaves and Fishes Soup Kitchen, the Nashville Food Project, and Burundi Tutoring to one-time events like the Richland Creek Run and Race for the Cure, there is an activity to suit every students' interests. And as much good is done for the benefactors of the Service Club's work, perhaps the greatest benefit is felt by the involved students, who are taught the value of giving of oneself to serve others.

This year, the club was led by faculty sponsors Dr. Cal Fuller and Mrs. Annie B. Williams, club president John Mellow, vice president McLean Hudson, secretary Tom Bu, and treasurer William Yang. Though the club continually evolves in size and form and needs in the community change, the MBA Service Club remains ready to answer the call to give and to serve.

MBA hosts the Duke of Edinburgh Gala

On May 23, 2013, MBA students participating in the Duke of Edinburgh program received medals earned by completing the requirements of the Duke of Edinburgh Award. This award entails dedication to a "special skill," athletics, and service along with an "adventurous journey."

The "special skill" aspect required that students show dedication to a specific activity, which could range from a variety of different extracurriculars. Athletics and service are similar. The "adventurous journey" required students to participate in a one-night trip that incorporated intended educational and positive themes. Some students went hiking and spent a night camping, while others pursued different journeys.

The medals were presented at the Governor's Mansion by Governor Bill Haslam and the national director of the award program. Among other guests at the award ceremony were Mayor Karl Dean, Miss America, and Prince Edward, the Earl of Wessex. MBA recipients included: Tom Bu, Austin Dobbs, Mark Lowe, Seth Cook, Sam Bellet, Nilay Patel, Aaron Kaplan, Harrison Lien, Diego Martínez Rojas, Harrison Wheeler, Brandon Carpenter, William Snow, Greg Quesinberry, Steve Wood, Sam Weien, Davis Lovvorn, Clay Andreen, Will McFadden, Reid Parker, Grant Myers, Daniel Bishop, Josh Rotker, Cameron Travis, Tim Bulso (2012), Si Deane, Nicholas Heim, Ian Scholer and John Triplett.

The MBA awards were administered by Mr. Gioia, Mr. Norton, Colonel Sharbel, Dr. Komando, Ms. Williams and Mr. Redmond.

Theater at MBA

MBA students take the spotlight

The Theater Program at MBA helps students develop creative solutions to complex problems. In facing the challenges of performance, students develop sensitivity to the interpersonal relationships inherent in the collaborative process and grow as individuals, thus preparing them for all enterprises that value these qualities. The 2012-2013 MBA Theater Season included the fall musical Lucky Stiff, directed by Dr. Cal Fuller, The Elephant Man, directed by Dr. Rick Seay, Great Expectations, directed by Mr. Malcolm Morrison, Ali Babba and the Magic Cave, directed by Dr. Rick Seay, Amadeus, directed by Dr. Cal Fuller, and student-directed One-Act Plays.

Thanks to the extraordinary generosity of the Wilson Family, twenty-five MBA rising juniors and seniors traveled abroad to sharpen their language skills during the Summer of 2012. Students participated in homestay immersion experiences in Argentina, Costa Rica, the Dominican Republic, Chile, China, Ecuador, France, Germany, Italy and Spain. Additionally, several underclassmen participated in the Middlebury-Monterey Language Academy, a three-week intensive immersion experience stateside.

Class of 2013

"I will never forget this class for as long as I live. The memories and friendships that were built within this class will last forever. The class of 2013 truly embodies the motto of "Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete." I see fortune 500 company owners, doctors, and lawyers in this class; however I also see artists, dreamers, and innovators. The sky is the limit for our senior class and it will be exciting to watch each other grow for the rest of our lives."

Thank you so much to my family for supporting me and being there for me in all my decisions. I could not have become the person I am today without them. Thank you Mr. Norton for being such a great influence in my life in and outside of the classroom. Thanks for all the encouragement and guidance that you have given to me. Thank you to all my friends who have always been there for me and supported me in my walk of faith. Thank you Coach Russ for your advice and working with me at ultimate, track, and cross country. To all my teachers, thank you for all you have done to push me to do my best. To all my classmates, good luck next year and thanks for all the great memories.

MBA: I got through it, but I will never forget how pointless/unnecessary many things I had to do here were. "Lick his nuts"; "You're John Teaparty?"; "Operator? Operator?"; Rack City 2012; Homecoming pictures 2012; "I'd eat her poop"; failing out of band; Leaving Daniel Bishop in the front of the park; Getting high on history; F. Scott Fitzgerald; Aruba; saying you're 19 when you are really 16; Seeing Mr. Smith and Miss Ellory at the Cherub concert; Running naked laps; Running more naked laps; 24-2 with Jack Bond; getting even; Backing into 3 cars; 3 speeding tickets; trespassing; Kingston Spring's rock quarry; crossing streams; catching the pencil while clapping; Charlie Brown; Crying before the last show of The Elephant Man; too many forgettable concerts; The Criminals; spot on top of steeplechase;

To my teachers: Your unique personalities always made class interesting. I feel every teacher here has a deep passion for the subject they are teaching, a passion that is infectious. I can not thank y'all enough for the many lessons, whether pertaining to the class or not. Special shout outs go to Dr. Carro, "Magic" Mike Davidson, Dan Herring, Mrs. Palmore, Mr. Chenery, and Dr. Bailey. I couldn't have made it through here without your classes.

I would like to especially thank Dr. Seay, who has been a true mentor throughout the years. While we have butted heads on more than one occasion, I have learned more from you than I can ever explain. I will miss talking to you every morning more than anything else from MBA, and I will never forget the unsurmountable care you have for your advisees.

Most important of all, I would like to thank my mom. She has had to put up with way more than she deserved by working at MBA. I want you to know that while I can understand why you did it, I will never grasp the insurmountable amount of love you must have for me by enduring work every day. I love you more than I can ever describe and will miss you dearly next year.

Mohammad Azamtarrhian

"I Spoke to Thee"

i spoke to thee
with a smile and thou didst not answer thy mouth is as a chord of crimson music
Come hither
O thou, is life not a smile?

i spoke to thee with a song and thou
didst not listen
thine eyes are as a vase
of divine silence
Come hither
O thou, is life not a song?

i spoke to thee with a soul and thou didst not wonder thy face is as a dream locked in white fragrance
Come hither
O thou, is life not love?

i speak to thee with a sword
and thou art silent
thy breast is as a tomb
softer than flowers
Come hither
O thou, is love not death?

-e.e. cummings

10th: Meeting Mr. Moxley, Maclin, struggling with bonds in Chem, DGibby turning the ones and two's on the study hall table, my last baseball efforts, the x-rays, clashes with Tark, "oh dude did you use gradesaver? I used it and still failed? 'um why would you say that right in front of me?'" , supernova, the fallen soldiers.

11th: RIP Harry, "is pheeseecs mane", brake-checking the cigar, by far the hardest year of high school, peanut butter and a small white dog for Aaron (to-go, please), "I'll pull out the windmill. I'll do it, wanna bet?" , GPRez, Spanish III honors class with Phil, the drought of March hath pierced.

12th: THE TWEET, project graduation, smoking my cigar with Beau, Beau, "Yeah, this has been the best year of my entire life", getting into college, the surprises of money, WPS Hotty Toddy and ... Boomer Sooner?, "are you faderaded?", Rites with PJX DJ, Rack City, heckling at the soccer and baseball games, my best grades of high school coming in second semester, AHAP (or better known as hell), PARMESIANINO, the lake house trilogy, the stories of the Ecuadorables, greeting the coyote, 21 to 1, finishing with a bang.

Over my time at MBA I learned one significant lesson: each and every student must and will find their own purpose, their own niche in the community and grade. For some, it changes and for some it comes easily. Whether I found mine in time or not, I have a countless number of people to thank for helping me. From Mr. Moxley's consistent efforts to throw me into something foreign for me to Dr. Tarkington's persistence with me as a two year student, it became apparent to me that despite some differences with those around me, I had nothing but high praise for the teachers and figures of authority that facilitated my four years on the Hill. Pictures will say only a few words compared to what I will laugh with friends about in 15 to 20 years. To my acquaintances and classmates, good luck in the future and continue to impress wherever you may end up. With that, Roll Red.

Speaking of theater, theater has defined my time in the hill. I am so thankful to Mr. Morrison and Dr. Fuller for the opportunities they have given me and for making my time on the hill meaningful. I'd also like to thank coach Deutsch for giving me the opportunity to play hockey this year as a first year senior. I wish I had started hockey sooner. Definitely one of the best choices I made this year. I loved my time at MBA, but now it's time to go. Peace!

To my parents, thank you for sending me to this great institution and for putting up with me all these years.

To Mrs. Qian, I attribute almost all of my math success to you. I could not have asked for a better math teacher for my first three years at MBA, and no one could ever lay a better foundation than you did.

To Coach Russ and Coach Pruitt, because of you both, I have come to love running, and under your great guidance, it's been possible for me to run double digit distances.

To Cdr. Carr and Dr. Dickens, competing in Science Olympiad has been one of the greatest experiences I've had at MBA. Thank you for being great science teachers to lead the team, and I will truly miss the rollercoaster of a ride it's been.

To Dr. Komando and Mr. Womack, you guys have been invaluable mentors to me in my artistic journey, and I want to thank you both in teaching and believing in me these past years.

Thank you MBA for all my teachers, friends I've made, and a great time.

Galen Bullington

Resident non-conformist (Birth - Death); Lots of awards, too many activities...I think everyone gets the point.

Well, well...five years. Many times I thought this day couldn't come soon enough. Now that it's finally here...hooray! Let's pause for a moment - not something always accepted around here. Take a deep breath.....and let it out.

Haha, feels great doesn't it!

Moving forward post-MBA and looking back to these years I'm sure they will be a distant memory in the grand scheme of things. Nevertheless, I'd like to recognize a few things important to me. Certainly the "MBA experience" isn't an easy one; my one sagely recommendation would be to always remember who you are. Not the easiest task in such a place. Quite the quaint concept these days, but I cannot stress how much meaning may be imbued to this simple phrase. Also, stand for something...the devil's in the details.

I've always favored this interpretation of MBA's motto: "Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete...Artist" - though I can probably only claim 1 out of 4. On that note, I would like to extend my thanks to the teachers who have helped keep me sane all these years. Dr. Konamdo:

what can I say? I couldn't even begin to cover the breadth of our relationship the past two years, but I would just hope that you understand everything you have done to be there for me, give me encouragement, and help me grow as an artist/person. Mr. Womack: Art History was my favorite academic class I have ever taken, and I can't begin to tell you how much I learned/appreciated (can't say I didn't mention it)! Ms. Hollifield: you gave me my first art commission and I wish I could have spent more than just a single quarter in your class!

I wish I had more space to write but a shout-out to Mrs. Holmgren, Ms. Anderson, Mr. Quinn, and Mr. Bernatavitz as well! To these as well as a few other teachers and close friends, I can't thank you enough. You make this school what it should be. Signing out for the last time - g. bullington.

As much as I could say I am relieved to graduate and finally be done with MBA and all of its rigorous course work, I can't help but miss the amazing times I've had and the friends I've made along the way. Although I can't say I would do it over if I could, there is no doubt that I made the right choice of picking MBA. Now, get ready to read every memory and inside joke I ever made while on the hill (that I can think of).

Moderating, Taking it outside, Sweaters, and Snaaaaaaake!

My time at MBA has been an oxymoron. It has been strenuous and all-consuming, but most of the time I didn't seem to have a care in the world. It has been nigh eternal, but looking back it was nothing more than four years. It was all red and white in the buildings and the sports and the clothing, but those two colors could do nothing to shield your vision from the many colorful personalities that fill and make the campus. From my freshman year, where I was no more than a speck on the wall who knew no one and nothing, to my sophomore year, where I knew that I couldn't write a word much less a research paper, to my junior year, where worry and doubt and college expectations nearly destroyed me but also where I discovered theater and I was made to learn to speak for the second time, and to now, to my recently passed senior year, where I learned to write a word and speak a word, I know what high school has done to me. It has made me a person. High school, those 4 formative, experimental, smelly years have made me a person, and MBA has, like everyone else in this book, made me an individual. It has refined my thinking process and taught theories and philosophers to a middle school kid who did nothing but daydream in class. For my progress, I'd like to thank the people that gave it to me, Mr. Quinn, Dr. Fuller, Dr. Batten, Dr. Tarkington, Mr. Moxley, Mr. Tillman, Dr. Seay and Mr. Gioia.

These past 6 years have really changed my life, and it was an experience that I will never forget. One thing that I did learn was not to tell another person to put a bug on Gary, my bad Chris but on the bright side it made you stronger. LOL When Mo cut all his hair off lookin' like Morpheus was extra funny, I died laughing. Another thing I know is that I will never eat pasta again unless it's the last thing on Earth to eat. English Class Junior year will always be a highlight in my memory..." LEAVE NOW"...I guess I'll go ahead and put this in here since the crew kept whining about it, LIFE IS A STRUGGGGGGLEEEEEEE E!!!!!!...But on a serious note. One thing that I will miss the most are the times that I spent with the bros, I WILL MISS ALL OF YOU, and that's coming from the heart.....YEA WE MADE IT!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

First day on the hill and I forgot my homework, first football practice, awkward mixers, IPS, ten dollar bueno, Smyra game, Dickson game, two deer on first hunt, 1st turkey, whitfield/wagster dove hunts, driving, white lightnin', 1st play and tackle, JV Lax, Sam's broken leg, donut, fifa, soup, princes chicken, fishin', frog giggin and night fishin, Sr. P's class, 1st party, Mrs. Raines 3rd period, her phone, what is that?, the corner, port-o-potty, cones, Christmas tree, sticky notes, slow down man, cash out, CMA fest, Courtesy of the Red White and Blue, "I gotta go cut the grass", senior football, Bellbuckle, night run, Ensworth and Trinity games, Rack City, prom, laser tag, scavenger hunt, my house, boxwoods, redneck, farm, Arizona, Vincent, hang loose, stucco gun, project X, rabbit?, McDonalds, birthday at the farm, biggest bonfire ever, cave, shooting, Youth Sunday, FPC, Pei Wei, the view, "squirrel hunting", bucket list, powder puff, senior skip day, frog legs.

Going to MBA was the best decision of my life. I cannot thank my parents enough for giving me the opportunity to spend six years on the hill. We always talked about graduation as something so far away, but here it is and cannot believe this chapter of my life is over because I loved every minute of it.

Smh.

11th grade: R.I.P. Matthew Daniel Waller. My brother passed away on April 1, 2012. Making the 1,000 pound club in my brother's memory. MBA truly helped me get through the entire situation. Without Tony, JT, Brooks, Kamani, Gary, Amol, Brandon, Terence, Jay, and all the coaches and teachers. Student Body President. Speech came from the heart. All of my teammates, I don't know how I would've pushed through it. "You're all my brothers" Brandon and Jordan fight at team camp. Dr. Batten's class. smh crazy. "HUUUUUHHH!" "Don't say anything." "I didn't ask for a response!" "Leave now!" Dangerous Person.

12th grade: R.I.P. Daisy Davis and R.I.P. Billy Tate. Breakout year in football. 9.5 Sacks. StetsonU c/o '17. Team Camp "Oshellele" Running through Hell Buckle at 11 o'clock at night. Full body cramp and practicing the same day. "Coach Malone! Time to go! Third and Fo! Oh No!" "WE HITTING AND WE RUNNIN LETS GO!" s/o my dawg B-ry from the yoch. RACK CITY. Two sacks against Trinity. Best game of my entire life. We had them beat. Fullback no comment. Never forget that night. Beating Baylor, big forced fumble. Lost to BA. Embarrassed BGA 41-0 on Homecoming night. 2 sacks. Ensworth: Hypest game of my life. TFL on Corn and Sack on drives back to back in the first quarter. Rack City running over little kids and parents to shake life with the squad. s/o my dawg iBall. Wrestling season was phenomenal 40-4. State runner up. Runner up in every tournament in wrestling. State finals. The farm. All my bros supporting me at my first wrestling match against Franklin. Dominican Republic trip. Sponsoring Argely with Robby. Baseball with the kids. Being in love with Dorca. Dice with all the underclassmen and Bird. s/o my dawg bird for keeping it real since day 1. Praying for the pastor at the Leprosarium. Made you look with Cade and Tone. (I won). Little 7 year old driving. 2CDs takes over WKU. 2CDs takes over MTSU. 2CDs takes over Stetson. Signing Day. One of the best days of my life. Made it to Region finals in Discus. Who would have ever thought. Lifting with Jay. 350 bench, 305 clean, 475 squat. Tune Room. We made it! APES sucked. Talking to John Tully, Garrett, Garstin and Jay at the back of the bus at every tournament. Watching 48 hours with Jason in the hotel room in Atlanta. Finals in Prep Slam. Gonna miss this place so much. The friendships I built are forever and I appreciate what this school has given me, Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete.

To try to sum up my time at MBA in this brief allotted space would be to do the school a tremendous injustice. I've been exposed to a great number of quality role models, but also encountered my share of not-so-admirable men. Surrounded by the best friends I could ever have prayed for (even though I tend to be a very difficult person to be around), I was able to learn the subtle nuances that help to define a respectable man. I'm closer to you guys than I am to any one else on the planet, and we went through the fire and came out on top. I love my friends, coaches and teachers, and I am forever grateful for what MBA gave me.

Mother Amy and Father Jon, without you guys I don’t even want to know what I would have turned out to be. Probably a wreck. I really don’t know how you deal with us three kids (especially Will). Thank you for demanding so much out of me, and getting mad about my homework zeros, even though I probably had really good excuses for all of them. Will, you have three long years ahead of you, but it only gets better. It was great watching you play soccer while I sat on the bench.

Ford, I think I’ve heard you talk more in the past year than in all the other years combined. Keep it up; you’ve got good things to say.

Hey....syrup over fleshy pancakes. Flippin' flapjacks. ADVENTURE TIME. I love it when I can bite the inside of my mouth and not feel it, That's the best feeling. It feels like seven years since we last spoke. The past so dry. The present ubiquitous, the future so blinding. Hey Nathan, do...doodoodoo. THERE GOES THE MILITIA. ....John Stamos.....Dexterity and Skill. He doesn't have it, no, he gave it to me. Super Nintendo Sega Genesis. Carrey Mulligan, you will be mine, but only if you want to, like, I don't wanna be weird. HAVE YOU BEEN THERE?! No big D. Come, Come, Join the other. DO YOU WANT ANTS. Make a wish before you barf. Naight naight. OPOSSUM. Stoppard shaffer mamet albee orton mcdonagh etc. PSYCHOPATH. Well I guess you're Jesus too. AT LEAST I DON'T WEAR GLASSES WITHOUT FRAMES IN THEM. Mandy gave me the Furman shirt. HAHA... In New York City we have the metropolitan system. Stay low, Tom. Use my hands to use my heart. My blanket and me. HOODIE CREW. I'm kickin it bro. I can handle my ish bro. John?...John Teaparty?...Ahf ardffg. KHAHAHAHAAN. Danger Zone. Poor child, you're never gonna make it, New York City just wants to see you naked. HellaRaid. CHERUB...oh right...cherub. ALL THE NAKED PIZZA. Nips ahoy. Guys....the doors are now open. Yo, Pope. You throw that pencil. MOVE YOUR CHEETAH. I loved every minute of it, boys. Except French.

Well, after six long years, we are finally done. It has been a struggle, it has been difficult, and at times it has been unbearable, but above all, it has been a blast. I have never been around a group of people who are as driven to succeed in as many different areas as our Class is. I couldn't be prouder to be associated with such a great group of guys.

To my family, the past four years especially have been tough, I'm not going to lie, and I've had my problems with all of you, but I'm constantly trying to figure things out for myself, and the fact is that I'm not perfect, and I', infinitely grateful for y'all's not giving up on me through it all. It means alot. Know that I care about you more than anyone else in the world, and that everything I do is done in the hopes of representing you well and that; I want you to be better people for being associated with me. I am who I am because of the various ways all of you have influenced me. I'm going to miss every one of you immensely when I'm gone next year, but always know that while I may physically be in Knoxville, I am never really gone.

Reflection

I think about all the things I've done
 I can't help but feel I am the chosen one
 I know that there isn't much evidence
 But its why I never fear the consequence
 I never thought it'd end like this
 I never thought that all of my friends I'd miss
 I never thought that it'd turn out this bad
 Its so sad, to think about things we could've had
 And now we're just trying to regroup
 Understand the fact that life's an ice cream scoop
 And the sun's so hot so I better just eat it
 Rather than it melt or mistreat it
 And I know they'll understand
 So let me cross it out of all of my plans
 My plan's big but life's plan is bigger
 Yeah life's fast but I'll move even quicker
 No, they can't slow me down
 When they try to do that I just come back around
 Everything they say well it really don't matter
 Cause when it comes down to it, I got my own swagger
 Rocking, no stopping, shopping
 For something that just can't be brought in
 And as long as my hip is still hopping
 Then I'll celebrate with some bottles popping
 Not many, just a few of us
 But right now it's just the two of us
 I'll accept that I'll always be a loner
 The price of being an emotional evoker
 Yeah, they want to hold me down
 Trying to keep my head up, they just want me drown
 No, I won't let them hold me under
 The truth is coming call it the thunder
 I know that they want me dead
 Remember the words that I said....

I would like to thank everyone who has supported me through these years. I will never forget the time we have shared together. It has been a rough road, but I'm better for it.

I love you all.
 Be curious. Love every step. Dream big
 Nathan "Littlefoot" Fouts

I am truly thankful for my time at MBA. Whether it was staying up till 1:00 A.M. doing homework, or almost beating the number one team in the country (Trinity), I have learned many important life lessons during my time on the hill. Though people are quick to criticize MBA for being an all boys school, being at a school with only guys creates an incredible camaraderie. The friendships I have made over the years are the most important thing I will take away.

Thanks Mom, Dad, and grandparents for providing me with the opportunity to attend MBA. Thank you for always being there and helping me mature into a young man. Thanks to all of my coaches and teachers, especially: Coach Simpson, Coach Brock, Coach Chauvin, Coach Barclay, and Coach Klausner.

To all my friends, thanks for never failing to make me smile and laugh. As the new kid going into freshman year, I was nervous about making new friends and finding my place on the hill. I can't tell you (Class of 2013) how appreciative I am of the kind, humorous, and caring welcome I received from the very first day of freshman football practice over the summer.

I am extremely appreciative of all the teachers I have had over the past four years. Special thanks go to Dr. Boyd, Mr. Kelly, Mr. Davidson, Commander Carr, Mrs. Palmore, and Mr. Tillman for pushing me to succeed while at all times deeply caring for me. Very special thanks go to Sr. Paolicchi, without whom I would know nothing about the realms of Spanish music, Spanish movies, and Spanish literature; I will strongly miss our weekly meetings during break on Tuesday, and I credit you with my love of Spanish. Finally to the Class of 2013: stay classy; stay real; stay strong; and, above all else, stay together.

Thank you to all the teachers, but especially Dr. Carro and Ms. Raines. Both of you helped me tremendously during my time here in and out of school. Thank you coaches Mike Anderson, Mike Martin, Thomas Wims, and Joe Davis who have coached me longer than anyone else and have taught me the essentials of competition and respect. Thank you Dr. Tarkington for being an incredible advisor and mentor to me these past few years. Thank you Mr. Sawyer and Mrs. O'Connell for the support you have given me on the honor council. Thank you to my mom, dad, and sister for getting me through my high school years. There is no way I would have made it without you. I love you all. To the baseball team, you guys are my brothers and got me through everything this year, it was an honor to call you my teammates and play the game with you. Finally, thank you to the class of 2013. You guys have made this an incredible experience and I wouldn't change it for anything in the world. Special S/O to George Swenson, John Tully, Will Campbell, and Luke Hazen. Ya'll have always been there for me through everything and I would do anything for you. The times we've had are priceless and I'm going to miss you guys a ton. Roll Red.

I can't thank the teachers and my classmates enough for everything. I started off not fitting in, but eventually I found out a lot about myself. I would especially like to thank Coach Anglin and Coach McMahan for making me a part of the team, Will Granbery for teaching me everything I know about managing, Coach Klausner for allowing me to grow as a student, and helping me get into English II (h) with Dr. Tarkington (Doc), which created a relationship that consisted of dislike that later turned into appreciation because no other teacher pushed me harder as a student. Thank you Coach Brock for being a great advisor, on the days you actually came and Mark McIntosh/Brandon Thornsberry for being there and giving me someone to talk to during basketball season. But the biggest thanks I have go to mom and dad for letting me decide where to go to high school. They let me make my own decisions and supported me through each one, while letting me live with the consequences and grow as a person. You let me make the best decision of my life. I love you.

Taylor Groom

Swimming (9-12); Church ball (9-12); Service Club (9-12); Chorus (9,10); Chamber Choir (11,12); Youth Group (9-12).

So many factors have made me who I am today, but, without question, MBA is the core reason behind it all. The school has affected who my friends are, helped mold my beliefs, shown me my talents, and challenged my perceptions. Above all, it has given me experiences that I will remember for the rest of my life. We all had our friends from other schools before MBA, and they will always be a part of us, but we grew, and developed new friends from activities like the Atlanta trip, different sports teams, and just from the casual everyday experiences on the hill. I want to thank everyone that has influenced me through my time at MBA. I would like to give a huge shout out to all of my friends for making the hill such a memorable time in my life. All the times partying and chilling with you guys will always be such vivid memories.

I want to thank my parents for everything that they have done for me. I love you guys so much. I know it wasn't easy. I can't begin to thank you for the unconditional love you have given me throughout the years. Thank you for helping me grow up. I would also like my teachers throughout my years at MBA; all of you have had an impact in my life. I want to thank Dr. Boyd for making history such a pleasant experience and for all of his witty, British remarks. I want to thank Mr. Tillman for being a mentor to me, and Mr. Smyth for starting the Chamber Choir which has been a major part of my life. I would especially like to thank Dr. Tarkington for putting up with me, for being my champion at times, and for pointing the right direction, consistently without fail, all four years I was in his advisory.

Rowing (9-12); Theater (10-12); Science Olympiad (10-12); Bell Ringer (10-12); Honor Council (12); Soup Kitchen (9-12); German Club (9-12); Math Competitions (9-12); Cum Laude (11-12); Totomoi (12); King Society (12); William Martin Award to the Best All-Around Boy in the School (12); African Leadership Academy-Winchester Symposium (12); Exchange to Michaelhouse (12); Wilson Language Grant to Germany (11); Vanderbilt STriVE program (11); Summer research with Dr. Blackwell through REHSS (12).

Yowzas and ALKIADTs with RKP; Doctor J; checking out but never leaving the Shacktus; McDonald's until four a.m. at Science Olympiad; fire extinguishers exploding in the shed; Home Depot mishaps; the Titanic didn't sink (yet); the rubber chicken and smooth poetry; cultural days and debates with my favorite Irishman; rock-paper-scissors cursing; Weißwurst; code in haste, debug forever; flipping canoes at ramming speed with low ambient lighting; playing Smash Bros. until the wee hours of the morning; Seniors and Seth; those poor highway cats; the eggs are poisoned; my rushed profile and the changes for the second draft; 4th period study hall stocks; K-Pop and plastic surgery; broke my glasses raging for the cure; candy for my Friday Feast; my embarrassingly late Senior Bio.

I'd like to thank everyone at MBA for making my stay so wonderful! Whether it be in the world of rowing, the sphere of theater, the realm of Science Olympiad, or the domain of the classroom, I have always felt accepted and welcomed. I have loved my time at MBA so much, and I'm sad to have to leave the place where I became a man. I'd like to thank my parents for their support, my brother for the distractions, my teachers for the guidance, my coaches for the lessons, and my friends for the fun. In the words of rowing legend Sam Martin, "It's been real, it's been fun, but it hasn't been real fun" (just kidding, I had a blast).

Dylan Hall

Throwing routes after school every day, and being told that we couldn't throw football, on the 'football' field... yea. "Guys... guys... this.... This is high school." Operations smile, EP, operation smile failing within the first month, will.... You were first... Keenland, and the Barn... good lord the barn... sneaking out of the hotel room and then getting caught when I got home because of it.... Spring break in Calan hallifornia with Robby when we flew into LA and drove alllllll the way up the coast with Bob, one of the best people I had the pleasure of knowing, that was an awesome trip. Summer workouts senior year, not feeling like a senior, thinking where is James Kay, and Joe Riegle, and that coach.... That we used to have, that... won. Almost beating Trinity, should have won, no doubt... Tony's touchdown, that was hype. Rack City. Max Staver... should have beat BA, beating Baylor on a last second touchdown, but coming up short against Ensworth in the end, it was an awesome season that I'll never forget, I wish we had one more. UT Knox, almost dying, homecoming.. that was a fiasco, Mortons, late nights, murfswag, brooks "training" his hair, the study hall spot, Collins Stories, CLLLLLIHHHHINTTTT where are you!?, and so many other memories.

For many reasons, we all hate this place, the homework, the late nights, the failed tests, the themes, but we have so many reasons to be thankful for what we have received not only in the classroom but in extra-curricular activities as well as the lifelong memories and friendships, that will never be taken away. Roll Red.

My time on the hill has flown by. I can vividly remember the day when an awkward 8th grader walked onto the hill not knowing anyone. Now, the only thing that has changed is that I know people. I'm working on the awkward part. I have made some great memories with some great friends who will continue to be my best friends. I love you guys and I couldn't have made it through here without you guys.

Being on the hill has shown me my true passion: music. Thank you to Mr. Rundberg, Mrs. Pippin, Mr.
Smyth, and Mr. Meridith for all or your support these past few years as I pursued my passion. I have always had fun playing in the Jazz Band, the Rock Band, and at Cellophony. I look forward to pursuing music next year.

Thanks to Mom, Dad, David, and Anna Clarke. I couldn't ask for a better family. I love you guys. Thank you to Coach Simpson for being an awesome advisor. Thanks to JT, Chris, Sal, Trip, Hunter, and so many others for welcoming me when I was scared and didn't know anyone and for making my time on the hill such a memorable one.
Thanks and Roll Red.

I know you all will be famous and successful one day. I'm just waiting on the years to pass by and I flick a channel and say, "I know that guy"! I love all of you!! Iball 4 Life !!!!!!!!!

Chris Hooks

It's been an amazing ride up on the hill, and before I lay out the typical string of inside jokes and memories, I have to thank some people.

First, to Dr. Marro. Thanks for being my advisor for all of high school. I could never imagine having anyone else lead me through my last four years on the hill. You've shown me the ins and outs of MBA, and even a few tips for college. I am forever grateful for all of your guidance and knowledge.

Secondly, to my teachers. Thank you, each and every one of you, for helping develop this ignorant little kid into a mature young man. All of the wisdom you bestowed on me will never be lost. Everything that you have done, from class discussions to exams, have taught me and shaped me into the man I am today, and words cannot express how grateful I am.

Thirdly, to my parents. Thank you for putting up with me for 18 years. I know it must have been tough to suffer through all of my antics all of the time, but you did, and even laughed at my stupidity. You have nurtured me, supported me, and most importantly, loved me through my entire life, and I will miss you while I am away at college. I love you guys.

And finally, to my not-so-little-anymore brother. Clark, you more than anyone know what a pain-in-the-arse I can be. But, you have nonetheless loved me unconditionally, and you've always been there for me. Whether it is coming to my sporting events or being my teammate in Halo, you've always been the best bro a guy could ask for. I'll definitely miss you at college, and I wish you good luck in your senior year and your college search.

So now onto the inside jokes: "Woah, there's seafood in here!"; flaccid; "Falkner, there is no angle subtraction postulate!"; Bowman's puns; Randor; the Banana; mosh pits; Whan that Aprille; Boydor; Mark Lowe's work ethic; Smithers; diaper; Nick Green throwing up so hard that he passed out in the toilet; "TUUUULLLAAAANNNEEE!!!"; "William, the Jesuits aren't Jews."; "God shave the queen!"; Team Knights; the rubber chicken; "Cole, do your reading!"; "Chris look, corgis!"; juxtaposition; mad 'za; "MILLWEE!!".

I know I'm missing a lot of others, but if I list every memory I had of MBA, it would fill the whole yearbook. Thank you to all of my friends for an incredible six years, and I'll miss all of you next year (except J.T. and Galen. You guys get four more years with me!).

These past 5 years have certainly been a changing point in my life. I came to MBA as a 14-year-old kid who transformed everyday into an exceptional young man. Being a product of the public school system, and having to suddenly transition into a strong institution such as MBA was rather difficult. MBA upholds solid environmental codes that will eventually lend aid in the near future. Although I didn't see it my first few years on the hill, I can honestly say I'm leaving as Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete.

First off I would like to thank my parents and younger sister, for sticking by my side being my foundation, never giving up on me at times when I wanted to. Auntie Brenda, Antione "Twizm", Brittany, KiyaBug and the rest of my extended family, you know who you are. Secondly, I would like to thank Mr. Gioia. My journey would not have been possible without you. You gave me tremendous motivation and courage to finish the journey, I think you for that. Mr. and Mrs. Rodriguez, for giving me those tutoring sessions freshman and sophomore year and helping me with accessories regarding school. Coach Malone for helping me maintain my sanity, and just being the realist Wigg to come through MBA, Coach Bryant, (Dan Man somewhat). Dr. Seay for sticking with me. Coach Klausner, Ms. Anderson, Coach Redmond, Mr. Deutsch, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Quinn and another teacher/coach who helped influenced me. I want to give a shout out to the young bros who still have a couple more years on the Hill: Dj aka "Mr. No Lights himself", D. Tusie "Tusie Time", Mike Lacey (with his explosive power lol), Dj Good, Ac Carr(you are officially a pb&J sandwich lol), Stephen Richey, Frog(you better hold my number down) Harold Turks, Pendergrass, my little brother Benjamin, Tracy aka "Sheriff"... and the rest of the lil homies I forgot. Shout out to the class of 13', we shook life; s/o the best class in MBA's history.

The friends made, memories kept, and hell we've been through, the past six years have been the best days of my life. From falling asleep trying to park or traveling to the third floor of ball to visit my immediate and distant family, I have cherished my time and will remember every experience on the hill. I can't believe I made it this far and had the fun I did without any serious consequence. I thank all the students, faculty and staff, and my family for always being so supportive and making these memories last. I wish I could bring my whole class to college with me. There isn't a single regret I have during my time on the hill and will keep everything I've learned and experienced in my heart forever.

Although I wasn't at MBA very long, I still had a great time and met a lot of great people. The classes were difficult for me as everyone knows but I feel very prepared for college as a result of it. My teachers senior year were great but most of all I am thankful to my parents and to my coaches.

I would have never gotten to go to MBA if it weren't for my tennis coach, Tom Boysen, and the help of Mr. Gioia, who I hope to see out on the court soon. Coach Davidson and Coach Williams were also incredibly helpful and they both do so much for our team and for me especially. Coach Davidson had to put up with quite a lot of annoying jokes this year but never failed to laugh about it. Mrs. Karpos was unbelievable as always with always providing our team with snacks and confidence and all the guys on the team were also amazing. My good friends Landon Bullock, Jack Bond, Chris Duffey, Andrew Graham, McLean Hudson, and Jack Rhodes always supported me with tennis and school just as much as my coaches and teachers did and I know I'll always keep in touch with them. I hope everyone in the senior class will have a successful future and live a long and good life.

Most people in this section are going to write about how rewarding but strenuous MBA was for them personally and how they could not imagine themselves at any other school. They are going to talk about the awesome camaraderie that makes MBA unique or something else extremely cliché. By this time in my high school career, I've figured out that I'm not like everybody else, so I'm not going to write about that. I know that I could have thrived at another school and would have been just as happy if not happier. I would have gotten to be a big fish in a small pond instead of getting lost in the MBA ocean of future neurosurgeons, astrophysicists, and lawyers. With that being said, my experience on the 'hill' (more of a slope in my opinion) was unforgettable because of the life lessons the school has taught me. I still can remember writing the mandatory 7th grade letter to Brad Gioia about my hopes and aspirations while at MBA which basically said that my high school would be a disappointment if I didn't win a state championship and end up going to a prestigious college. Neither of those things happened, but I did learn something at MBA far more important: I learned where my priorities in life lie and will undoubtedly use this knowledge for the rest of my life.

I am so thankful to all the friends, faculty (especially the basketball coaches), and my family for helping turn my childhood dream of attending MBA into reality. You guys are amazing and definitely made my MBA experience an incredible one!

"Mientras por competir"

Mientras por competir con tu cabello
oro bruñado al Sol relumbra en vano;
mientras con menosprecio en medio
el llano
mira tu blanca frente el lilio bello;

Mientras a cada labio, por cogello,
siguen más ojos que al clavel
temprano;
y mientras triunfa con desdén lozano
del luciente cristal tu gentil
cuello;

Goza cuello, cabello, labio y frente,
antes que lo que fue en tu edad
dorada
oro, lilio, clavel, cristal luciente,

No ya en plata o víola trocada
se vuelva, mas tú y ello juntamente, en tierra, en humo, en polvo, en
sombra, en nada.

It's been some good times with some good dudes especially with Miller and Tyler, but there are a few things I need to say before leaving the hill forever. I would like to officially apologize to Quis for those messages and for indirectly being a part of that one sausage fest and remind him to flame on even though we all know what really makes him smile. To TG or the self proclaimed "lil-mickey", I would like to remind one final time to be cautious with OnDemand and no lights. Also, congrats on the award! To Snake, don't ever go back to Dalt's or Carrabas. Also, do you think Epstein knew? To my emotional and spiritual leader DJ stonewall crumbsnatcher, thank you for the shirt rope and roaming adventures. Hayden two-hour Deakins, I wish you good luck in finding Geraldo and in using your Vineyard Vines gift card. Lucas, watch out for that fructose. Colin and friends I hope you have all recovered from fight night. To underclassman Chase Meluch, good luck conquering your fear of insects. I am sad to be leaving MBA but happy to know that no one will know the story of my balloon in Danville. Hopefully, my brothers Billy and Haynes can keep the Lynch legacy alive for years to come. Thank you to all the friends, teachers, and coaches I've had along the way. It wouldn't have been the same experience without you all.

"I Live, I Die, I Burn, I Drown"

I live, I die, I burn, I drown
I endure at once chill and cold.
Life is at once too soft and too hard.
I have sore troubles mingled with joys.

Suddenly I laugh and at the same time cry
and in pleasure many a grief endure.
My happiness wanes and yet it lasts unchanged.
All at once I dry up and grow green.

Thus I suffer love's inconstancies and when I think the pain is most intense
Without thinking, it is gone again.

Then when I feel my joys certain and my hour of greatest delight arrived
I find my pain beginning all over once again.

MBA has helped grow and shape me into the man I am today. There have been good times and bad, but both of these helped me grow and mature. I would like to thank MBA for giving me a fantastic education, and for preparing me for college (Go Dore) and life. I know that I would be a completely different person today without MBA. I would also like to thank the amazing teachers I have had. Teachers like Coach Cooper, Mrs. Roberts, Dr. Boyd, and many more have helped me develop a passion for learning and made my experience at MBA even more enjoyable.

I would also like to thank my friends and family for their support and encourage, and thank my parents for sending me to the best school in the state. I would like to give all the glory and honor to my Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, and thank Him for dying on the cross for my sins and giving me new life.

"No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

You made it possible for me to become an MBA student, the single greatest decision and achievement of my life. I have had some great times at MBA and have lifelong memories and friends. I look forward to the life ahead of me, knowing that I have been prepared for anything and everything that may come my way.

To the faculty of MBA, thank you for making me into a man that I am proud to be. I will never forget what I have learned from each of you and the contributions you have made to my life. I look forward to returning to the campus of MBA in the future and watching others. Forever Roll Red.

I had been in public school for 8 years before coming to MBA, so leaving the world of the double X chromosome was a frightening experience. I had heard the usual adages from the public schoolers, "momma's boy academy", "male boys available", among others, but I decided that if I was to pursue the best education I could, I should brave the stereotypes and join the Big Red Nation (now Rack City). I remember being lost in this bold new world of MBA, but it didn't take very long to find my way around the campus, I still get lost in the social labyrinth though. Freshman year with Meeeeees Williams is the only class I can vividly remember from that year. I still laugh when I think of Wilson Johnson getting up in the middle of class dancing and saying "Grandma". I don't remember much of Sophomore year aside from the fact that Chemistry with Commander Carr nearly killed me. Junior year with Dr. Boyd in modern European history and Sam Turner I still assert was a microcosm of my entire MBA experience. Finally, astrology with the legendary and mysterious Dr. Dickens was usually salvation of my day, except the times when we actually had to do problems. All in all, I could not be happier with my decision to take the risk and go to MBA. I have confidence that I will be continually rewarded for my choice long after I leave the hill.

MBA has been the best decision I have ever made in my entire life. Though the good times and the bad, through glorious wins and terrible losses, the friends I have made I will keep forever. The relationships that I have built not only with my classmates, but also with faculty members is remarkable and there is no other place I would have rather done it or any other people I would have rather done it with. I have discovered who I am and who I want to be because of this place and for that I am eternally grateful.

Mom, thank you for working your fingers to the bone to put me through a school where yearly tuition is the same as a new car. Mr. Tate, you taught me to speak well, but you taught me far more about how to be a gentleman. Aaron Lutkowitz, while I may not have fully understood it at the time, you taught me how to convey my ideas to others -- you have shaped the kind of researcher, student, and debater I am today far more than you realize. And to the best advisor in the world, Doctor Marro, you have treated me like your own son -- my life at MBA would have been horrendous without your help.

My time on the hill has been incredible to say the least. I have received an outstanding education while making friends that are better than I could ever ask for. Some of my memorable moments:

7th grade: Nick Fletcher crying during English class; Coach Cooper cutting up Mrs. Robert's Stewie; Andrew Einstman breaking a window; Taylor groom cowboy dancing during band; Cabin 13 leading us to the dumpster; Line of Demarcation.

8th grade: I visited every advisory because Woolsey was never on time; actually being in a project with Collin Bishop and Chandler Burgess; Wilson on the Fishing game in Atlanta.

9th grade: Ms. Williams' 8th period English; Connor losing point on EXTRA credit for saying Dick Buttkiss; Naptime during Epstein geometry.

10th grade: Decades; Pappy Birthday; Being able to have a feast in Dr. Bailey's class and he never notice; Algebra with Todd Moran; "What do you mean you people."

11th grade: Math with Lanier (speaks for itself); History with Boyd; "Sir this was not on the study questions"; "This is like the time in Star Wars"; Physics with Andrew Graham; "Forcum, your mother"; The little black book.

12th grade: Rack city; Connor losing a tooth; Morrison English "Jacket off"; Jumping out of the Window during French; Top 5 during Gogo's class; Barry's classic "That person doesn't even exist!"

I have had some great moments on the hill. Too many to list but I will always have the memories. I truly appreciate the brotherhood that has been created over the past six years. I also want to shout to the best advisor ever, Mrs. Holmgren. It has been an awesome 4 years. Thanks to all the teachers because you have made an impact on my MBA experience.

"Amor constante más allá de la muerte"

Cerrar podrá mis ojos la postrera
Sombra que me llevare el blanco día,
Y podrá desatar esta alma mía
Hora a su afán ansioso lisonjera;

Mas no, de esotra parte, en la ribera,
Dejará la memoria, en donde ardía:
Nadar sabe mi llama el agua fría,
Y perder el respeto a ley severa.

Alma a quien todo un dios prisión ha
sido,
Venas que humor a tanto fuego han
dado,
Medulas que han gloriosamente
ardido:

Su cuerpo dejará no su cuidado;
Serán ceniza, mas tendrá sentido;
Polvo serán, mas polvo enamorado.

The first thing I'd like to say is that looking back, MBA was more fun than I thought; those long, grueling nights of not doing homework and the exhausting minutes writing a theme were just barely bearable. Thankfully, my teachers and classmates were entertaining enough to keep me going. Although I wasn't as serious I should have been, I'll make one last effort here. Sorry if it's cheesy.

To my classmates: Thanks for always being so funny despite all the work we were assigned and the sometimes boring lectures. I admire that you all were able to persevere and I feel as though our trials really did form a brotherhood. So if life ever knocks you down (and it will), I and everyone else will be there to remind you that there is nothing you can't do.

To my teachers: Thank you for teaching me and never giving up on me, even when I was being a difficult student. You are all such wonderful people and I hope to find a passion that matches your own for teaching. Keep up the excellent work.

To my family: Thanks for making my education possible and for all of your love and support. Although it's time for me to make my own place in the world, you will always be a source of courage and strength for me.

I don't really know how to conclude this except that right now, I feel happy that I went to MBA; I met so many interesting people and even learned a few things. To all those who graduated, I hope you live a good, happy life. For those of you still stuck in MBA, enjoy the time you have left. It goes by faster than you'll want.

Sonnet 18

Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
 Thou art more lovely and more temperate.
 Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May,
 And summer's lease hath all too short a date.
 Sometime too hot the eye of heaven shines,
 And often is his gold complexion dimmed;
 And every fair from fair sometime declines,
 By chance, or nature's changing course,
 untrimmed;
 But thy eternal summer shall not fade,
 Nor lose possession of that fair thou ow'st,
 Nor shall death brag thou wand'rest in his shade,
 When in eternal lines to Time thou grow'st.
 So long as men can breathe, or eyes can see,
 So long lives this, and this gives life to thee.

-William Shakespeare

Thank you coaches Deutsch, Knapp, Mazzoni, Harvey, and especially Dalton for helping me become the player I am. Gonner and Yabos, almost a decade of playing hockey together is over, and I can say you were the best teammates I could ask for. Nick, Aidan, and all my other friends, thanks for the good times we've had and for being the idiots you are. MBA, despite all the stress you've put on me, I've loved my time on the hill and will never forget it.

To my brothers at MBA, we have been through the most rigorous six years of our lives. The way we have supported each other and genuinely cared for one another is one thing I will always carry with me. Love you boys.

To all my coaches, thank you for pushing me each and every day to be a better football player and a better man.

Finally, I want to give a big s/o to my main ladies on the 3rd floor of Ball, thank you for always making my days at MBA more enjoyable and giving such great "life advice." Sorry you have to deal with Jody all day.

It's been a fun ride and no one can take away what we have accomplished. Roll Red Gentlemen.

Oh the benches were stained with tears and perspiration
The birdies were flying from tree to tree
There was little to say, there was no conversation
As I stepped to the stage to pick up my degree
And the locusts sang off in the distance
Yeah the locusts sang such a sweet melody
Oh, the locusts sang off in the distance
Yeah, the locusts sang and they were singing for me.

I glanced into the chamber where the judges were talking
Darkness was everywhere, it smelled like a tomb
I was ready to leave, I was already walkin'
But the next time I looked there was light in the room
And the locusts sang, yeah, it give me a chill
Oh, the locusts sang such a sweet melody
Oh, the locusts sang their high whinnying trill
Yeah, the locusts sang and they were singing for me.

Outside of the gates the trucks were unloadin'
The weather was hot, a-nearly 90 degrees
The man standin' next to me, his head was exploding
Well, I was prayin' the pieces wouldn't fall on me
Yeah, the locusts sang off in the distance
Yeah the locusts sang such a sweet melody
Oh, the locusts sang off in the distance
And the locusts sang and they were singing for me.

I put down my robe, picked up my diploma
Took hold of my sweetheart and away we did drive
Straight for the hills, the black hills of Dakota
Sure was glad to get out of there alive
And the locusts sang, yeah, it give me a chill
Yeah, the locusts sang such a sweet melody
And the locusts sang with a high whinnying trill
Yeah, the locusts sang and they were singing for me
Singing for me, well, singing for me.

Before I start, I would like to thank everyone who made my MBA experience memorable. Without these people, I wouldn't be the man I am today.

Although it took time for me to realize, the people I came in contact with every day managed to change my life for the better. All of the long nights studying and cramming for tests have paid off, and I owe a lifetime of debt to the people who helped me through the MBA experience. Junior School: Mr. Russell giving a quiz on the first day of school; Mr. Sawyer and his "gloomy personality"; Peter Thurmond almost breaking Davidson's nose; "Hey Woosley, you're deaf!"; Paintballing and Atlanta in general High School: Advice to Lucas at Tim's Ford; Getting called out by Dr. Tarkington (truly a life changing event); sleepovers at Adam's; Miss Betty—"It's true, I like to hear myself talk"; Nathan's surprise birthday party and my little surprise the same night; Getting consoled by Kevin ("The same thing happened to me in high school!" as he washed me off); Snow angels after winning regions; The ups and downs of Freshman State; Being led by the best team captain ever, Pat Killian; Chanting USA all four years after a four peat in the relay; McCallie hating Baylor just as much; Sophomore Spring Break to Arizona; the night in Flagstaff; Nathan punching a wall over Monopoly; Winning state Junior Year; Mr. Gaither's "the cool table"; "No I will not eat a horse"—Adam; "Ay, no doubles!"; Olympic Training Center and Pikes Peak; Extra sets on Sunday with Dakota and Charlie; Racing in the park with Dakota; Senior Year pump-up speeches at State; "Dude, did you five-star me before that relay? My time at MBA is something that I will always cherish and that has greatly affected my life. Although, during middle school I didn't even consider MBA in my choice of high schools, and I probably would not have attended were it not for the encouragement of my friends. I visited the school and began to take it into consideration, and after meeting people like coach Klausner, coach Cheevers, and Mr. Bryant I really began to see myself attending the school. I can say that after my ninth grade year I began to see what made MBA a special place. MBA has a prestigious reputation but what make the school stand out from others are the people and the relationships they share. My classmates were some of the nicest and most accepting people, and these traits made me really feel like a part of the community. Some people hate school and detest going, but for me the burden of school was balanced by the presence of my friends and classmates. MBA gave me confidence, it taught me respect and it showed me how to be a true friend. I am incredibly thankful to my parents for making it possible for me to go this school and all the encouragement they gave and continue to give me over the years. Thanks to Coach Cheevers and Coach Klausner for making my soccer career at MBA for the past four years unforgettable. Their encouragement and belief in me has been a big part of my success. Thanks also to my teachers. In the beginning MBA may not have been my first choice, but I can now say with certainty that it was the right one.

Wisdom is often found in unusual places. In no particular order, an incomplete list of lessons learned at MBA:

I have never met someone who could not teach me something. If something can go wrong, it probably will. Mr. Kelly's body is a temple. There is nothing fashionable about being late. Information is a commodity. Coach Lanier has perfected Newspeak. Do not steal another man's breakfast. The administration is not always right. You can talk your way out of anything; it is just a question of finding the right words. We have a new dining hall. It is easier to ask for forgiveness than for permission. You learn more from failure than from success. Just because you learned it in class does not make it right. Just because you learned it on the Internet ESPECIALLY does not make it right. You have to spend money to make money. Art is an intellectual activity. Confidence will get you further than pure intelligence. The higher the risk, the higher the reward. There is something to be said for faking it until you make it. Just because you sit on a snowman does not make it a glacier. Treasure terrible situations; they build character. Never underestimate the power of good grammar. You can tell a lot about a person based on how they talk to authority figures. Pokémon will never go out of style. If you are going to be stupid, be smart about it. Whether you think so or not, you can rap. Just because you can rap, doesn't mean you should. Everyone is afraid of something. No matter how good you are, there will always be someone who is better. No matter how bad you are, there will always be someone who is worse. A friend to all is a friend to none. There will always be an excuse to say "no" to something. Nobody wins an Internet argument. Whether you believe in it or not, live like karma exists. There is such a thing as respectful disagreement. And above all, do what makes you happy. Thank you for everything, gentlemen.

There are countless great memories I have from MBA. There are way too many to fit into 350 words, so there is no way I can even begin to list all my memories from the hill. However, a few that really stand out to me are: Rack City; Basketball trips; Coach Mac at Long John Silver's; The Bear Hat; The Shake Weight; Bo's mattress; Chillin with pony; Team camp; The train, nuff said; The art grind; Mr. Kelly's cultural days; The Kanglin clan; Quotes from Brandon Key; "Razah!"; Ping-Pong; The Crew; The MBA-Baylor game; Mr. Deutsch's math class; King's Island; Early mornings with Robby and Hunter; Halloween with Kamani and Marcus; The flood; Battle Ball; Pasta; "How is this related to Economics in any way?"; Leavers' Dinner; Chats; Waffle House; The Rancher; Soup Kitchen Saturdays; The Race for the Cure; Coach Jenkins study hall.

I would like to say thank you to my mom and dad for sending me to MBA. It is the best thing anyone has ever done for me and it is what has made me into the man I am today. MBA is more than just a school, it is a family. I have learned that being a part of the MBA family is something that will always be a part of you no matter where you go or how old you are. I have made many great friends during my time at MBA, and look forward to being a part of this family for many years to come. MBA is a challenging school filled with more than its fair share of struggles for every student, but if I had it all to do over again I still wouldn't change a thing. Roll Red.

I have made so many great memories at MBA, and I can't thank everyone who has impacted me. Thanks Dr. Seay for your constant support and encouragement. I will truly miss all the great times we have had in class and advisory; Dr. Gaffney for teaching me more than Latin; Commander Carr for all the great stories and jokes shared in I-32; Mr. Sawyer and Mme O'Connell for all your advice; Coach Kamm for your ability to push and encourage me farther than I ever could have thought; Mr. Kelly for teaching me how to analyze literature; and Mr. Gioia and Mr. Norton for always pushing me to succeed.

To my classmate,s thank you for the memories we have shared. In particular to Luke, John, and Jody, it has been a ride, and I have cherished all the experiences, we have made. You have always been there for me, and I thank you for all your support and friendship.

To Mom and Dad, words cannot accurately describe my gratitude and appreciation for sending me to MBA. You are the reason of why I am the person I am today. I hope I made you proud. Anthony, keep on going little guy. You're going to do great and know that if you need anything I'm always here. Brian, we've had so many great memories, and I can't wait to see you succeed.

Thanks again to everyone who made by MBA experience. Now it's time to tackle the real world.

I'd like to thank a few teachers, Mrs. Raines, Dr. Carro, and Mrs. Christeson, for not only sharing their knowledge but for always making me smile. Also, to Coach Simpson, you helped me learn and mature as person through all those days in the room, and I appreciate all that you have done for me in becoming the person I am today. Lastly, to my best friends, Jody Gorham and George Swenson, you have made these past six years the best of my life, and I hope that sixty years from now we'll still be driving around looking thick and doing our thing. This journey has been long, but I don't regret one minute of it. Roll Red Roll -Big D

Sam Turner

I just returned from the Ireland Trip, and let me say, it was one of the greatest trips I've ever been on. I've known all of these guys for at least 4 years, and I wouldn't trade my class for any other to graduate with.

The trip included a lot of golfing, where we would bet a snack at the bar as a prize for winning a scramble; fly fishing with guides who seemed to not know how to rig us up correctly to catch a fish; and good times at local bars where we would peacefully hang out together and enjoy each others company. Some of the highlights included wrestling matches in the rooms during the after hours; singing American songs together in Irish pubs; meeting the bar owner's wife; the incredible and unforgettable bus ride when Connor Murphy had to take a pit stop; trying our Irish accents out saying numbers like "tree" and "far" and "farty-tree;" and of course being called the best trip Mr. Kelly has had in many years.

There are a lot of great memories from my time on the hill, but this was the perfect way to go out with a bang. I would do it all over again if I could, and I'm glad to call myself an alumnus.

"I took my love and I took it down
I climbed a mountain and I turned around.
And I saw my reflection in the snow covered hills
'Till the landslide brought me down.

Oh, mirror in the sky
What is love?
Can the child within my heart rise above?
Can I sail thru the changing ocean tides?
Can I handle the seasons of my life?

Well, I've been afraid of changing
'Cause I've built my life around you
But time makes you bolder
Children get older
I'm getting older too."
-Stevie Nicks, "Landslide" (1975)

I want to also thank my parents for all their support through the years, my friends for being there and all my teachers and mentors at MBA who have helped me in many ways these last four years...Mrs. Palmore, Mr. Tillman, Mr. Gioia, Mr. Norton, etc...(too many to name, but lots). Mostly, I want to remember Mr. Billy Tate as he became a wonderful friend and mentor these last two years and I do believe there was some Divine Intervention in Mr. Tate being a part of my school years at MBA...Godspeed Mr. Tate. These years on the Hill have really helped me grow as a person and I will always remember them and the great friends that I have made there. I hope that MBA always stands strong.

My years at MBA have been filled with good moments, joy, excitement, stress, anger, and many other emotions, but overall I have loved MBA and my time there. All of the moments of being overwhelmed and being furious because of things related to MBA really become small issues when I consider all of the great things that have come from MBA. I have made awesome friends, met incredible teachers, and had an experience that I will think back to with happiness. Even though I am somewhat ready to leave, I know that I will miss the MBA campus and all of the people who are part of the campus. I appreciate everyone who has supported me and guided me along the way, but I especially appreciate the support and kindness I have received from my mom (Barby), my dad (Govan), my brother (Richard), my sister (Molly), my grandparents, my aunts and uncles, my cousins, Mr. Gioia (my forgiving advisor), and all of my teachers. I apologize, teachers, for sometimes (or all the time) talking too much and my sometimes obnoxious behavior. I know that God will care for me and love me forever, and that makes the remainder of my life not as scary.

"Remember kid, there's heroes and there's legends. Heroes get remembered but legends never die, follow your heart kid, and you'll never go wrong."

The MBA experience is truly something. It was an unforgettable six-year venture. From diagramming sentences in Mr. Sawyer's class to getting high on history in Mr. Herring's class, I will miss everything. Furthermore, did you hear about the new cafeteria? Mr. Kelly, I'll be sure to use your pick-up lines in many Manhattan bars. Dr. Boyd, your senior reading comment of me rises from your jealousy of my booty shaking talent. Mr. Compton, I believe in the Chain Rule! RKP, I hate it when I get those YMTU comments. Coach Lanier, I hope you find a nice Persian rug. MBA, you are spectacular, but using the JCC's pool has gotz to stop. On a serious note, I am grateful for everything I have been given in my life. I couldn't have asked for a better high-school experience.

Thank you to everyone. Thanks Mom and Dad—I know it wasn't easy. I can't begin to thank you for the unconditional love you have given me throughout the years. Thanks Big Bro—I appreciate all your advice and your willingness to help me in everything. Lastly, to all my friends, thank you for the memories.

At MBA, students are vigorously involved in school life, both in the classroom and in extracurricular activities. Because well-rounded growth is nurtured and encouraged at MBA, it is not unusual to find students fully engaged in intellectual pursuits while also contributing to athletic teams, dramatic and musical performance, community service, debate, and a host of other activities. MBA's faculty devote themselves to their students; more than 76% hold advanced degrees with holding 17 doctorates on campus. Small class sizes and an active advisory system contribute to a student's sense of belonging and importance as an individual in the school community. Life as a student is not easy, and schedules are full, but the goal is always excellence. Roll Red.

Science Olympiad

The MBA high school Science Olympiad team won its 4th consecutive state championship this past Saturday (April 14) at the University of Tennessee, finishing ahead of 17 other teams including state rivals White Station, Harpeth Hall, MLK, and Oak Ridge to advance to the National Tournament at Wright State University on May 18. There the team placed 34th overall (out of over 6000 teams that compete nationwide) with 8 top ten and 10 top 20 finishes. Team leadership was provided by seniors Adam Bowman, Chris Habermann, Hamilton Millwee, Hunter Tidwell and Kevin Wang. This is the team's 5th state championship in the last 7 years. The team won medals in 20 of the 23 events, including 5 state championships, 4 second place finishes, 7 third place finishes, and 4 additional 4th through 6th place medals.

State Champions – Michael Milam and Henry Ingram (Astronomy), Sam Hurd and Sam Papel (Boomilever), Adam Bowman and Hunter Tidwell (Fermi Questions), Kevin Wang and John Triplett (Materials Science), and Sam Hurd and Henry Ingram (Water Quality)

State 2nd place – Adam Bowman and Sam Papel (Gravity Vehicle), Hunter Tidwell and Adam Bowman (Robot Arm), Sam Hurd and Sam Papel (Elastic Launched Glider), and Chris Habermann and John Higham (Technical Problem Solving)

State 3rd place – Hamilton Millwee and Tarun Mallipeddi (Anatomy and Physiology), Adam Bowman and Hunter Tidwell (Chem Lab), Hamilton Millwee and Thomas Marosz (Dynamic Planet), Chris Habermann, Kevin Wang, and James Throckmorton (Experimental Design), Sam Papel and Matt Miccioli (MagLev), Michael Milam and John Triplett (Rocks and Minerals), and Sam Papel and Matt Miccioli (Write It Do It).

ACE Mentor Program

ACE members Galen Bullington, Tom Bu, and Thomas Marosz.

The Architecture, Construction, and Engineering (ACE) Mentor Program is an after-school program that gives students a hands-on introduction to architecture, construction management and engineering—careers students may consider if they are interested in designing and building almost anything around them from schools, museums, stadiums and concert halls to bridges, tunnels, shopping malls, parks and more. ACE will assign adult mentors to each team. Mentors are volunteers. They are professional architects, engineers and construction company executives. Mentors show student team members where and how they work, the skills they use and some of their projects under construction. They also help students design an actual project.

This year, MBA really saw an improvement in its debate team. Everyone showed significant improvement, so much so that we cannot wait to see how people finish the year in 2014. Every class has made a huge contribution but the rising sophomore and freshman classes especially have a lot of energy that we cannot wait to see flourish as they become more seasoned. As a team, we traveled far and competed well ranging from tournaments in Berkeley to Dallas and to Chicago. Special recognition should be given to the freshman debater of the year: Adam Young, sophomore debater of the year: Joseph Downey, and the most experienced and top team: Adam Biesman and Rahul Ramanna. We are all looking forward to another great year with a strong freshman class. On a different note, the debate team is excited to welcome Mr. Josh Clark to the MBA community as the new policy debate coach. Finally, the debate team will still be competing in honor of Mr. Billy Tate who unfortunately passed away in the April of 2013. His legacy will be missed.

Cross Country

Fall 2012 was a rebuilding year for MBA Cross Country. The team had the largest number of boys on the roster that they have had in recent years, but no senior competed in a varsity race this season as returning varsity standouts Alex Smith and Madison Rieke struggled with injuries. The large group of freshmen and sophomore runners pushed themselves to increase their weekly mileage totals and to improve their workout paces.

The highlight of the 2012 campaign came with the MBA Harriers winning the Metro meet for the sixth year in a row; the JV harriers captured their 35th consecutive Metro title. Anderson's return to competition at Metro provided a visible boost in morale and a significant improvement in team scoring. Metro week also featured the annual running of the Tour de Pants, with sophomore Will Pearson claiming the prize. The last week in October, the JV finished its season against McCallie, Brentwood Academy, Father Ryan, and Ensworth at the Steeplechase. In the competition dubbed "JV State" by the coaches, MBA finished third behind BA and McCallie. The varsity runners finished fifth at the TSSAA state meet; the boys competed well and ran well but were outmatched. The coaches are excited about how many of the boys improved over the course of the season and about how many of them came to better understand the dedication and effort required to become elite runners. They hope that those successes this year will help translate to greater competitive successes next year. Run, Red, Run!

MBA Football

The MBA Varsity Football team was very successful this year. The Big Red squad had a win-loss record of 9-4.

MBA opened the season at home against Kingsbury High School from Memphis. The Big Red defeated the Falcons, winning 51-0. The Big Red defense put up a stellar effort in the second half.

Following the victory over Kingsbury, the Big Red played a home game against Trinity High School (nationally ranked) from Kentucky. The game was incredibly close, with MBA students on their feet throughout. With the final minute winding down, Trinity, winning, had to punt. That punt was blocked and the Big Red had better-than-expected field position to make a last attempt at the end zone.

Coming off the disappointing loss to Trinity, MBA traveled to Brentwood Academy and lost 24-6. The following game was in Chattanooga against Baylor. Despite being down 20-10 late in the game, the Big Red, caught up with two touchdown passes and pulled off a victory.

Playing against BGA at BGA's homecoming, MBA pulled off a 41-0 victory, putting a damper on whatever homecoming festivities were planned. With 370 rushing yards, MBA ran all over BGA's defense. MBA returned home to then play Pearl-Cohn and won 50-14. The next week, MBA played Father Ryan, later to be a playoff opponent, at home and won 28-3 with 437 rushing yards.

Father Ryan again. This time, the score was 17-7. Father Ryan gave the Big Red a little scare with a late touchdown and ensuing onside kick, but MBA pulled out victorious regardless. Advancing in the bracket, MBA took on Christian Brothers in Memphis. MBA won 36-21.

Coming off a 4-game winning streak, MBA ran into a roadblock at Ensworth High School. Ensworth handed the Big Red a 35-7 loss. Returning home, MBA played McCallie and won 52-7 before playing JP II at home the next week. The Big Red defeated JP II 31-17 after coming back from a 14-point deficit.

The Big Red then moved on to the TSSAA playoffs, defeating Father Ryan again. This time, the score was 17-7. Father Ryan gave the Big Red a little scare with a late touchdown and ensuing onside kick, but MBA pulled out victorious regardless. Advancing in the bracket, MBA took on Christian Brothers in Memphis. MBA won 36-21.

MBA traveled to Highway 100 to face their most dreaded rival, Ensworth, in the playoff semifinals. The Tigers took the victory with a score of 35-7. It was an emotional loss for Big Red players, but they took it in good stride.

This season, MBA saw great improvement in the football program. The Big Red played very well throughout the season, beating most teams by a very large margin, and only losing to three different teams: Trinity, BA, and Ensworth, two of which were nationally ranked.

MBA is sad to see the senior players graduate, but have an impressive amount of talent coming from this year's junior, sophomore, and freshman classes. The Big Red, according to Coach Euverard, came one game short of this year's goal - to play in the state championship. Big Red players and fans alike are all excited about this season's successes and are looking forward to another great season next school year.

Varsity Golf

The 2012 Big Red Golf team had a very successful year. For the first time in five years, the Big Red golfers finally broke through at the Region Tournament. The team stayed focused and level throughout the year, a trait that paid dividends at the end of the year. Senior Captain Bevan Petrikin was the team's leader and number one player all year. Junior Cal Fisher, sophomore Chris Byrne, freshman Connor Downey, and eighth Grader Cal Rieke rounded out the team's top five players. The whole season came down to one round on one day at Tim's Ford in Manchester, Tennessee. MBA played a solid round and ended up finishing in third place and advancing to the State Tournament. The team ended finishing fifth in the State, with Petrikin and Fisher tied for ninth overall, each shooting a two-day score of 149. This was a great year for the Big Red, and with a lot of young players returning to the team, they should be in good shape for years to come. The team will look to build on this year's success and improve upon it next season.

MBA takes aim

The MBA rifle team, under the leadership of its only senior and team captain Hunter Tidwell, concluded its demanding, season with a third consecutive state championship in late April.

However, the hard work began in August with the long practices leading up to the annual MBA Rifle Classic in October. A major success, the Classic was once again the most attended high school rifle match in the country. The Civilian Marksmanship Program outfitted both gyms with their mobile electronic target system to supplement the lanes in the Rochford Family Shooting Center.

After the Classic, the team successfully took on the Mt. Juliet Marine Corp JROTC in a home dual match and later traveled to Griffin, Georgia to compete in the Ole Mill invitational, another largely attended high school national tournament. A squad comprised of Andrew Dupuis, Luke Cianciolo, Hunter Tidwell, and Matt Miccioli placed first overall in team competition.

By April, the Rifles were rolling again, entering the state championship fresh off a strong performance in the Junior Olympic qualifiers in Mt. Juliet. Led by high scores of 574 from both Luke Rochford and Matt Miccioli, the top squad shot a 2289 to capture first place.

Big Red Rowing

MBA 's boats enjoy unprecedented success

The MBA Crew team had an outstanding finish to the year. Seniors, Chris Habermann, Paul Moore, Ryan Owen, Robert Papel, Parrish Preston and Ryan Flack raced their last races for the Big Red as the founding fathers of the four-year-old program. The 2012-2013 crew seasons were the first seasons that MBA was able to have enough rowers for two full varsity boats; both of these boats placed in the top 50 at the Head of the Hooch Regatta in November. The team continued to succeed in the spring as they went to the South East Regional Regatta in Oak Ridge, TN where the Second Varsity 4+ finished 4th and the First Varsity 8+ finished 5th in the region. This was the first time in MBA history that a boat has made it to the grand final. The South East now recognizes MBA as a worthy competitor who is gaining speed fast.

Basketball

The 2012-2013 varsity basketball season was quite a journey. Returning the most inexperienced team MBA has had in several years and facing a very difficult schedule, this year's team was challenged from the very beginning. From a promising start, to a frustrating losing streak, to a great run to the State Tournament, the year spanned the gamut of emotions and taught many important lessons to the team. In the final analysis, the team finished with a 14-14 record, winning 8 of its last 12, and reaching the State Tournament semi-finals in a year where the depth of competition in DII-AA was stronger than ever. Seniors John Bachmann, Andrew Einstman, Kamani Hodges, Tom Kaiser, Amol Kaushal, and James Sharp all made solid contributions on the court, and helped the team display great chemistry, unselfishness and resiliency throughout the year. Memorable moments from the year included a promising December where the Big Red defeated Christian Co. (KY), MUS, Clarksville NE, and finished 3rd at the Above the Rim Holiday tournament. The perseverance, resiliency, and unyielding spirit of this team will be remembered. It will also live on in the number underclassmen that played a role on this year's team. That same spirit of dedication, commitment, and togetherness will be important foundations for next year's team as they attempt to carry on the success and traditions of MBA basketball.

Big Red Bowling

After a slow start with a relatively young team, the Big Red Bowling machine returned to prominence with a 15 – 07 record and a berth in the state tournament quarterfinal round as the Middle/East Region 5TH seed. MBA defeated powerhouse, DCA, for the first time in school history in the state tournament quarterfinal round advancing to the state semi-final round leaving MBA one of the top 4 teams in the state. During the regular season, the team finished with a 11 – 06 record in the very competitive middle district. MBA went on to win the District Tournament advancing to the Region Tournament where a victory over East power Knoxville Webb, landed the team in the State Tournament for the 11th year. The team consisted of 3 seniors, 2 juniors and 6 underclassmen. Nilay Patel (2014) qualified for the State Individual Tournament finishing 7TH. This team compiled an impressive record and a team average of 155.0 over a 22 game season. With 9 returning letterman for the 2013 season, the Big Red bowlers are set to make another run at the state title next season. The boys on this team were always great sportsmen, gentleman, and their performances as student athletes were a credit to the school.

Big Red Ice Hockey

The 2012-2013 season was a year of firsts for MBA Hockey. With a roster flooded with players new to the game, the team decided to expand and create a JV program. For the beginning portion of the season, the varsity team was stocked with these new players, but with the return of several older team members, the younger skaters were moved down to JV. Because the team was missing several key players for the 7 games that determined the teams placement in the league, the team opened with a 3-4 record and was placed in the Blue Division. The Big Red made the best of this placement though and won the rest of their games in the regular season, finishing with a league record of 17-4 and earning the 1-seed in the Henry Hines Cup tournament.

After cruising to victory over Hume Fogg-Page, the team found itself in trouble against Station Camp in the semifinals. Fortunately with some late game heroics including 2 goals in the final 30 seconds, the Big Red moved onto the championship. One 7-2 victory over FRA-USN later, the team won the Henry Hines Cup. This win was dedicated to the beloved coach Steve Dalton whose funeral the team attended on the day of the championship. The team looks to continue its success in the following years with leadership of experienced players and the addition of many new faces.

Swimming & Diving

Although resulting in a second place finish at the State Championships in Knoxville this season, the MBA swim season was defined by a myriad of changes and unfortunate circumstances that looked to hamper the team's success. Additionally, changes that saw two-time State champion head coach Michael Dobbs step down and the practices scheduled to irregular, inconvenient times due to the scheduling conflicts with the Jewish Community Center, where the majority of the team practices from Monday to Friday. Enter Coach Loveless, who differed greatly from Coach Dobbs in his coaching methods, often advising swimmers on ways to motivate themselves through hard sets and tiring swims and "focusing more on stroke-specific work," as one swimmer put it. With the smaller squad this season, team captains Andrew Dobbs, Tate Ramsden, Lucas Littlejohn, McLean Hudson, Jonathan Siktberg, and Alan Liang took the team to higher levels through exceptional leadership, bringing the squad together as one. The MBA swim season resulted in another undefeated regular season, but ultimately fell short of its goal of a repeat state championship. With returning swimmers and the continuing leadership of Coach Loveless, however, the MBA swim team has a bright future ahead.

MBA hits the mats

The 2012-2013 MBA Wrestling team finished the regular season with a record of 19-7. The team was led by seniors John Garrett, John Tully, Morris Eguakun and Franklin Garstin. The MBA boys fought very hard all year and faced one of the most difficult schedules in many years. Garstin (the team MVP) had a great season by winning the MTGC tourney, the Father Ryan Invitational, and then capturing the state title at 195 lbs.. Junior Jashon Robertson (285 lbs.) pushed his weight around as he won his second consecutive Southeastern Prep Slam Championship, and finished off the year by winning the state title. Eguakun, who wrestled at 220 lbs. had a brilliant year and earned second place in the state meet. All in all the Big Red had a great year with many underclassmen performing better than expected. Although the team loses four great seniors who provided much to the program, the Big Red looks to be a strong contender next year.

Baseball

This team was much better than the .500 record shows. The highlights of the regular season include a sweep over Ensworth and a series win against the 2011-2012 state champions BGA. The team earned a home series against St Benedict's in which the Big Red won in two games. In the next round MBA played Brentwood Academy, the number one seed from the east. The Big Red defeated them in an incredible three game series to clinch its first final four appearance in nine years. MBA dropped the first game to MUS and faced elimination for the rest tournament. Defeating JPII 13-3 in the elimination round ignited a flame in the Cinderella story as the Big Red went on to beat MUS as well in an 8 inning thriller to reach the state finals against nationally ranked Christian Brothers. Having to win two games to claim the title, MBA rallied and defeated CBHS 12-6 to force another game. The exhaustion of playing 5 games took its toll as Christian Brothers won the final game in 5 innings. Despite the loss, this team held its head high. It proved that heart can trump talent and that belief can be infectious. This team has set a precedent for MBA baseball and will be a model for teams to come.

Lacrosse

The MBA Lacrosse team looked to fill several holes in the lineup as it began the 2013 season. When the season began March 2, MBA had eight players starting for the first time at their positions. Despite their relative inexperience, MBA claimed the Region Championship with wins at Father Ryan and Baylor. In one of the most exciting games in MBA history, the Big Red pulled off the monumental upset in the semis against McCallie with a 7-6 overtime win with Jackson Flora scoring the game-winner. An emotionally and physically spent MBA team couldn't make enough plays against a deserving MUS team in the state championship, however. While the team's ultimate goal of a state title remained just out of reach, its hard work and success resulted in several individual honors. Griffin, Flora, Vest, Harwell, Bamigboye, Perrone, and Benton earned All-Region designations. Griffin, Vest, and Bamigboye were voted All-State. Bamigboye was selected as an All-American. Also recognized was MBA Head Coach John Harvey as Coach of the Year, and assistant Chris Smith as Assistant Coach of the Year.

Big Red Soccer

The 2013 season was a banner year for the big red squad. The team, coached by Giles Cheevers and Alan O'Connor, finished with a record of 14-1-1 going undefeated in the regular season and suffering a heartbreaking loss in the state championship game. The team was characterized by a fast speed of play, a tenacious aggression, and a depth of roster uncharacteristic of a high school program. Putting away over forty goals and only conceding five earned the team the distinction of the best defense in the state. This success can be contributed to the athleticism and continually growing awareness of junior goal keeper Drew Benson who has been able to put his raw athleticism into use under the guidance of Coach Cheevers and senior goal keeper Jake Simons. In front of Drew, the back line was lead by senior co-captain Henry Lynch who played center back alongside junior Ross Blackwell. The back line was flanked by the quick and powerful Sam Smith and big footed senior Chris Duffey. However, what really solidified the team was the midfield. The central trio of freshman Will Emerson and juniors Jonah Rappuhn and Nick Obrebskey was able to dominate games and feed the ball into the wide areas where seniors Hayden Deakins (co-captain) and Chris Briggs would get forward and put balls into the box. Up top, Gatorade player of the year Trey Gill and senior Marcus Riley were able to get the ball in the back of the net with ease. Overall, the team was disappointed with the way the final game turned out; however, nothing can diminish this great season or the legacy that the ten senior players will leave on the program.

Ultimate Frisbee

It was a year of ups and downs for the 2013 MBA Ultimate team. Led by seniors Patrick Moody, Clay McLemore, Will McFadden, David Maynard, Trip Adams, Parrish Preston, and Paul Moore, the team competed in several tournaments throughout the state including the Deep Freeze tournament in Chattanooga. The team also hosted its annual MBA Round Robin and did very well, finishing 3rd. At the State Tournament held in Murfreesboro, the team came in 5th place, losing only to Blackman in a close fought game. The team had many highlights this season including a 13-0 run to beat Blackman after trailing 2-8; however, the best moment of the season was a close fought victory against Hoover at the MBA Round Robin. After trailing to Hoover early, the Big Red rallied to have a thrilling 13-11 victory. Overall, this was a great season led by Coach Russ and Coach Hannon. Although this great group of seniors will be hard to replace, MBA has a talented group of juniors ready to lead the team next year. Ultimate is Fun.

Big Red Tennis

The 2013 Big Red tennis team came within one victory of winning its fourth consecutive TSSAA State Championship. After defeating Brentwood Academy in the quarterfinals and Baylor in the semifinals, MBA lost to MUS in the state finals.

The season had many team and individual highlights. The Big Red had its best finish to date at the prestigious DecoTurf National High School Tournament in Louisville. After defeating teams from Mississippi and Florida, MBA lost a heart-breaker (4-5) to the eventual champions, Hinsdale, Illinois.

The team went on to finish in second place at the Chattanooga Rotary event and the St. X Jamboree. At our own Carter Invitational, the team was in contention before the entire second day was canceled due to rain.

Seniors Aaron Jumonville (singles and doubles) and Andrew Karpos (doubles) were named to the All-Tournament team at the national event. Jumonville was also the East Regional singles champion in 2013, as well as the champion of the number one singles draw at the Rotary event. Karpos and junior Kalyan Chadalavada were the East Regional doubles champions.

The loss in the state finals to MUS was the first playoff loss for the Big Red since 2009. The five seniors on the 2013 team elevated the program to new heights. The 2013 season was another one to remember for the Big Red.

Big Red Track & Field

The 2013 edition of the Big Red track and field team was another success, although not quite matching the last three years' state runners-up finish. High points included continued excellence by the 4x400 and 4x800 relay teams, the pole vaulters, and the distance corps. For the 4th year in a row, and the 10th time in the last 12 years, the lads handily won the City Championship. A solid team victory, the Big Red rolled up 103 points, more than the 2nd and 3rd place teams combined. City champions were Ryan Carr ('14) in the pole vault, and Eric Anderson ('14) in the 3200. The win in the 3200 combined with a runner-up in the 1600 garnered Anderson the co-most-valuable runner in the meet. Anderson also ran well in the Great Eight at Vanderbilt with a 4:22 in the 1600, coming within 2 seconds of the school record. The team also traveled to Bowling Green, Kentucky, winning the Raider Run. Individual champions were Michael Lacey ('15) in the long jump, Clint Smith ('13) in the 800, Carr in the pole vault, and the 4x800 relay team of Smith, Madison Rieke ('13), Will Pearson ('15), and Anthony Swenson ('15). At the region meet, MBA placed 2nd to eventual state champion Brentwood Academy with a solid team performance. The team qualified three of the relays, with only the 4x100 failing to qualify for the state meet. Individual qualifiers were Anderson in the 1600 and 3200; Carr in the pole vault; hurdlers Furman Haynes ('13), Pearson ('15), and Owen Powell ('15); Andrew Porter ('15) in the high jump; Smith in the 800; and Lacey ('15) in the 400.

Art at Long Mountain

MBA's Art Department took a day trip to Long Mountain on September 15, 2012. Five students spent the day drawing rock formations on the trail and enjoying the beautiful surroundings. After working all morning, the group ate lunch outside and headed back before sunset. Despite the chiggers, it was a productive, inspiring day for MBA's artists.

MBA's Shotgun Club

This year marked the inauguration of MBA's shotgun club, lead by Colonel Sharbel. Eight student sportsmen traveled to shooting ranges to work on their marksmanship. Led by Colonel Sharbel, these students enjoyed time together as they practiced shooting skills on the range. Members of the club included Sam Turner, Jason Sharbel, Johnathan Barringer, Ridley Wills, Coach Alex Fettroll, Blake Patton, Wilson Hays, Nick Trogon and Will Norton. Given the number of hunting enthusiasts at MBA, Colonel Sharbel is clearly filling a need and giving these students a safe outlet to practice shooting.

Extracurricular activities at MBA range from service projects, to sports, and even philosophy. Through the Service Club, language-based and cultural clubs like Hispanic Achievers, the Asian Cultural Club, and JAG, students find many ways to give back to the community. Other clubs like MBA Riddlers, the Red Poets' Society, the Garden Club, and the Business Club give students a chance to learn new skills outside of the classroom. These clubs and activities help MBA students build a community and learn about different cultures, traditions, and opportunities beyond The Hill. Wherever your interests reside, there is something for you at MBA.

Every year on the Sloan Quadrangle, sun shines throughout the lawn as students and teachers stand ready with doughnuts to bait students at the Activity Fair. A chaotic frenzy of students lines up across the red brick that surrounds the quad in patient waiting for new experiences and delicious treats that the Activity Fair hosts. MBA is home to over 60 clubs and organizations with ranging interests from the Songwriting Club and Guitar Club to The Bell Ringer and The Bell. These clubs and organizations provide students with the opportunity to gain experience and knowledge in areas that would otherwise not be covered in the classroom, allowing the students' ideas and passions to flourish past the pen and paper. The doughnuts help, too.

MBA Clubs

At the center of the MBA club experience is the passion and desire to learn and experience new things. From doughnuts and tasty candies to croissants and beignets, clubs provide an array of foods to spark interest in unique lifestyles, as well as entice discussion of such cultures. These clubs are also notable for the service that they provide to the community. The African American Studies Club sacrifices sleeping in on a Saturday to support awareness for human rights. The Jewish Advisory Group (JAG) assists MBA students with an opportunity to reach out and connect with people whom they share a common belief with, growing in knowledge and experience together. Other clubs, including Hispanic Achievers, tutor members of Nashville's immigrant communities. Political clubs offer the opportunity to discuss current policy and events, while the Garden Club and Health and Nutrition Clubs promote healthy, sustainable living.

The Endada Arts and Music Festival is a student-run celebration of the arts. Since its conception in 2010, Endada has given a nod to the often under-appreciated student artist. The third annual festival fell on a rainy Saturday, April 27, 2013. It was the first year that Endada encountered less than ideal weather, but under the swift leadership of the Endada Crew, the festival was moved inside with the artists set up in the big gym, bands in the small gym, and performers and acoustic musicians in the Roberts Room. Endada proved just as successful indoors as in the sunnier, previous years. Featured artists included Myles Mallie, Fat Crow Press, Tye Dye Mary, students Jack Coyle and Andrew Dupuis, as well as teachers Michael Griffin and K.J. Schumacher; Sixteen bands and musicians from MBA, Harpeth Hall, Ensworth, Belmont, and the local professional music scene; performances by renowned spoken word group Southern Word, MBA, and Harpeth Hall's Caroline Grace Williams; Lastly, after a few food trucks had to back out due to weather, food was provided by the Grilled Cheeserie and Jim n' Nick's Barbecue trucks, Harry Stewart's Harry's Dairy Ice Cream, and last but definitely not least, Jay Thomas's World Famous Pound Cake.

Lucky Stiff

Fall Musical

Actors at MBA and Harpeth Hall returned to school early on July 30 to begin working on our fifteenth musical collaboration—Lucky Stiff. The play centers on an unassuming English shoe salesman named Harry Witherspoon (Jess Darnell) who will inherit a fortune if he takes his dead uncle to Monte Carlo and completes his “bucket list.” If Harry fails, the money goes to the Universal Dog Home of Brooklyn, or else to gun-toting wife of the casino owner (Ellie Hitt). Energetic musical numbers and antics by Coleman Sorenson and Alex Floyd as the body of Uncle Anthony contributed to the show’s success. Director Cal Fuller praised the tireless efforts of his cast and crew: “This group has been determined and attacked the hardest tasks with the most zeal. They have met the challenges of this show consistently, embracing the quirky characters and ludicrous plot with an excitement that is contagious and most impressive.”

The Elephant Man

Jess Darnell and Coleman Sorenson.

After winning the state title in October at the Tennessee Theatre Competition, Montgomery Bell Academy's production of Bernard Pomerance's The Elephant Man represented Tennessee at the Southeastern Theatre Conference competition in Louisville, Kentucky, in March. Competing against state winners and runners-up from 10 southeastern states, the production captured the 2nd-place title for the competition. Both Alex Floyd ("John Merrick, the Elephant Man") and Alexandra Thornton ("Mrs. Kendal") earned places on the All-Star Cast List, and Kang Huh won a special Judges' Award for his live cello accompaniment of the show. Sophomore Jess Darnell ("Frederick Treves") earned the very impressive honor of Best Actor award for the entire competition.

The entire cast and crew did a phenomenal job with this tough drama and represented MBA beautifully from start to finish. Students who made this such a success for MBA's theater program included: Mattison Asher, Lizzie Boston, Jess Darnell, Alex Floyd, Drew Gordon, William Hall, Neal Hawkins, Ellie Hitt, Kang Huh, Vince Panvini, Jamie Payne, Parrish Preston, Henry Rogers, Josh Rotker, Coleman Sorenson, and Alexandra Thornton.

Amadeus

Spinning the globe and traveling through time, audiences arrived in eighteenth-century Vienna in February. Under the direction of Dr. Cal Fuller, the MBA Players produced Sir Peter Shaffer's masterpiece Amadeus. The play tells the story of a minor composer who is eclipsed by a great rival. Jess Darnell ('15) played Antonio Salieri, whose considerable ambitions are frustrated by the appearance of the ingenious Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (Alex Floyd '13), whose compositions astonish all with their beauty and invention. Salieri is conflicted, both enchanted yet obsessed by envy. Soon his resentment corrodes his ethics. Salieri over-reaches; he attempts to correct God's injustice by destroying Mozart. Though set in the eighteenth century, the play is timeless, exploring universal themes that are relatable and haunting. MBA's production was a visual and auditory delight featuring sumptuous costumes by June Kingsbury, versatile sets and projections by David Brandon, and live music by a 20-piece orchestra under the direction of Tyler Merideth.

Student-Directed One-Acts

As a prelude to Endada's celebration of the arts in April, senior directors Reed Cothron, Jackson Cole, Alex Floyd, and Vince Panvini, produced a collection of short shows that featured a play by David Ives, an original adaptation from a story by Stanley Elkin ("Poetics for Bullies"), and a new original play ("The Criminals"), and a new original screenplay ("The Devil's Den"). The line-up was especially strong this year with great performances by James Matthews ('15), Drew Gordon ('16), Nathan Fouts ('13), Mattison Asher ('13), and Jess Darnell ('15). Dr. Fuller praised the senior directors: "I am particularly proud of this group for their creative adventures in playwrighting and willingness to revise, revise, revise!" Referring to their "Oh, Brother" theme, Fuller added that they have made him "A Man of Constant Pride."

Great Expectations

On November 15-18, the MBA players presented an adaptation of Charles Dickens' Great Expectations. A terrifying encounter with an escaped convict forever changes the life of the orphaned Pip (Younger Pip played by Andrew Kaplan and Older Pip played by Alex Floyd). Turning his back on his humble beginnings as a blacksmith's apprentice, Pip strives to better himself and become a gentleman, unaware of the hidden dangers that await him. MBA audiences loved this classic as it tackled questions of identity and presented a cast of unforgettable characters, including Miss Havisham (played with relish by Harpeth Hall's Lizzie Boston), Magwitch (played by James Matthews) and Joe Gargery (played by Mattison Asher). Director Malcolm Morrison praised his cast and crew for their commitment and energy: "I am enormously proud of their achievement in bringing this play to you with such a wonderful blend of artistry and dramatic intensity."

"MBA Orchestra has truly been a once-in-a-lifetime experience for me. It has given me some of my closest friends, fondest memories, and most remarkable experiences, but most of all, it has given me another way to share my music with others. I especially want to thank Dr. Cassel and Mr. Merideth for their immense efforts and contributions, building up the program to be one of the best in the state. I can't wait to see the heights that the MBA Orchestra program will reach if it continues on its current path of constant evolution in the hands of such great musicians."

MBA's Junior School

Hail to the microbes

Over the course of my seventh grade year here at MBA, I have watched and experienced many friendships grow. I have also witnessed numerous occasions in which my classmates have not only been leaders but have also been willing to take direction from others. The school motto, Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete, is clearly exemplified in the junior school by the eighth graders continuously reaching out to seventh graders to guide them during their first year at MBA. I hope in the years to come that the junior school will always be the root of the motto Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete.

Junior School Play:

Ali Baba and the Magic Cave

The hour-long show featured a young Arabian boy, Ali Baba (Tony Huang), thousands of years ago searching for the king's treasures that his evil uncle, Uncle Cassim (Andrew Kaplan), has stolen with his fellow thieves, Badoura (Harrison Kidd), Bo-Badoura (Ben Rosenthal), and Bo-Bo-Badoura (Isaac Sedek). Ali Baba eventually captures the thieves and is greatly rewarded by the guards (Chris Hawkins and Bryce Ardisson) and the captain of the guards (Turner Johnson), but he could not have done so without the help of his best friend Morgiana (Katie Wilkins) and his three other friends, Jake Evans, Henry Rhodes, and Tony Neuhoﬀ. The young cast came into the show new to theater, but left as knowledgeable thespians with the confidence to perform as great actors on the stage. The tech crew, led by Jack Brandes, Mark Lillard, and Matt Braun, served as experienced leaders for the tech newcomers Patrick Butner, William Gilliland, Will Trotman, and Harrison Avery. The show went smoothly, but no part of the show could have been completed or perfected without either of the two directors, director Dr. Seay and assistant director Mr. Berry. The actors all appreciate their hard work and diligent time spent to help the actors perfect the show.

Science Olympiad

MBA Junior Schoolers (as members of the 7th-9th grades team) competed in the Tennessee State University Science Regional Science Olympiad Competition in February of this year.

The Big Red performed decently well, placing 3rd overall - one place short of qualifying for the state competition. They earned medals in nine events out of the total 15 events.

With a gold medal in Shock Value, courtesy of Tony Ding, and silver and bronze medals in other events such as Helicopter, Mousetrap Vehicle, Road Scholar, Sounds of Music, Keep the Heat, Water Quality, and Write It/Do It, the Big Red displayed a very high level of knowledge.

Mathcounts

This year's Mathcounts team enjoyed experience at the chapter, state, and national levels.

At the February chapter competition, the MBA team placed 1st overall. Tony Huang placed 1st and Ben Rosenthal placed 3rd individually.

Four members of the MBA Mathcounts program were able to compete in the Tennessee state competition in March. Tony Huang, Ben Rosenthal, Micah White, and Jack Sullivan took home the team state championship, and Tony Huang placed 1st in individual competition.

Tony Huang and Mrs. Qian both were part of the Tennessee team at the national competition. Despite not performing as well as they hoped, the team benefited from the experience of competing at the national level.

We love you, Mom, dad and Alex

Tom Bu

We could not be more proud of the young man you've become. You have surpassed all of our expectations and truly made us proud. Not only do you continuously blow us away with your creativity, but also with your wittiness and charm. You've come a long way from the young boy in the maroon tie walking up the steps towards the 7th grade building; however, this is only the beginning! We know your future will be filled with many more happy moments and wonderful accomplishments.

Congratulations Tom! We love you! Mom, Dad, Yang, and Waipou

Landon Bullock

Landon, you are the center of our family! You have such a warm heart; we have been truly blessed! We are so proud of you! You are going to do amazing things! We can't wait to see what the next chapter holds for you! Remember Numbers 6: 24-26. We love you so much! Mom, Dad, Lane and Luke

Colin Caldwell

"Your time is limited, so don't waste it living someone else's life. Don't let the noise of others' opinions drown out your own inner voice. And most important, have the courage to follow your heart and intuition. They somehow already know what you truly want to become. Everything else is secondary." -Steve Jobs

Congratulations Colin! You've always set your own course and high expectations and, for this, we are so lucky and so proud. Thanks for all the joy and laughter you have brought into our lives. We can't wait to see all the wonderful things you will achieve!

We love you...Mom, Dad, Connor and Olivia

Will Campbell

Will, We will always be your biggest fans!
Love, Mom, Dad, Kyle and Cole

Hunter Crabtree

Hunter, we are so very proud of you. You will always be our beautiful boy, but you have grown into an amazing young man. Much love, Mom and Dad.

"May the road rise up to meet you. May the wind be always at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face; the rains fall soft upon your fields and...may God hold you in the palm of His hand. -Traditional Gaelic blessing

Hayden Deakins

You've done your best and we are so proud of you and your many accomplishments. Stay true to your beliefs and they will serve you well. Your challenge is to discover your world and then with all your heart give yourself to it. Spread joy and chase your wildest dreams. We love you very much! Mom and Dad

Andrew Dobbs

We are so proud of you! What a blessing to have watched your journey from new-born baby to the amazing man you are today. Congratulations! We love you... Mom and Dad

Tommy Douglas

Mom and Dad, Rachel and Catherine

"For I know the plan I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not harm you, plans to give you a hope and future." Jeremiah 29:11

J. Carlton Smith

"Promise me you'll always remember: You're braver than you believe, and stronger than you seem, and smarter than you think." -Christopher Robin to Pooh

.Congratulations! We Love You!!

Mom, Dad, Nash and Brawner

George Swenson

Genesis 39:3, 23

We love you forever, dear George.
Mom, Dad, Brian and Anthony

Vince Panvini

Congratulations, Vince. We are so proud of who you are and can't wait to see who you will become.

Love,

Mom and Dad

Marcus Riley

Kudos Marcus!

You have brought honor, delight, and serenity to our family. Thank you for your hard work, respect, thoughtfulness, and dedication. We are eager to see what's next in your journey! Our love and support always:
Mom, Dad, Maya, Marshall, and Gramma.

"Do not go where the path may lead. Go instead where there is no path and leave a trail." -Ralph Waldo Emerson

Sam Turner

"But blessed is the man who trusts in the Lord, whose confidence is in him. He will be like a tree planted by the water that sends out its roots by the stream. It does not fear when heat comes; its leaves are always green. It has no worries in a year of drought and never fails to bear fruit." Jeremiah 17:7-8

Dear Sam...remember your roots and live confidently! With everlasting love, Dad, Mom, Max, and Sally Glen

Jack Wagster

Congratulations Jack!
We love you!!!
Mom, Dad & Mary Ann

Sam Waitt

Congratulations Sam! What a wonderful journey you've had at MBA! We are so proud of you and all your accomplishments...you have worked so hard through the years. You have blessed us with your kind smile and bright mind and know that you will go far in this world. We are your biggest fans!

Remember, "God grant us the Serenity to accept the things we cannot change, Courage to change the things we can, and the Wisdom to know the difference."

Love, Mom, Rick, Wesley, Nicole and Jason

Falkner Werkhaven

Falkner, you are a special son and we are very proud of the fabulous person you have become. You have brought great joy and memories that have left your footprints on our hearts and lives.

Love, Mom and Dad

Davidson White

"Try not to become a man of success, but rather try to become a man of value." -Albert Einstein
 You are of the greatest value to God and to our family. We love you so much - congratulations on all your hard work and accomplishments! We are very proud of you.
 Much love to our Baby D -Mom, Dad, Molly and Richard (and Fluffy)

Mark Lowe

"I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."
Philippines 4:13

We absolutely love you, Marko!!
Your Devoted Family

John Tully

John, we are so proud of you and all you have accomplished! You have grown into an exceptional young man in every way. You are a blessing and joy that we delight in every day. May this next chapter in your life bring you only success and happiness. Congratulations!

Love you the mostest,

The 2013 Bell was produced by the yearbook staff at Montgomery Bell Academy in Nashville, Tennessee. This book was printed by Herff Jones, Inc. in Kansas City, Kansas. The account was expertly serviced by representative Mary Harris, customer service adviser Julie Bogart, and technical support adviser Debbie King. Dr. Gretchen Zimmerman was the faculty advisor. All page layouts were produced on eDesign, proofed at Montgomery Bell Academy, and digitally submitted to the plant.

This yearbook was produced by a small team of dedicated students during free periods in the school day, after school, on the weekends, during exams, and after the school year had officially ended. The yearbook requires a huge investment in time and energy; although most of the work happens behind the scenes, those of us who have spent countless hours on this book are proud of the book we have produced. We hope that as you page through this finished product that you appreciate that each page took this staff approximately four hours to complete; all told more than 2000 hours of work are represented by these pages.

This book would not have been possible without the following:

The expertise and enthusiasm of Herff Jones's Mary Harris.

The dedication and hard work of a very small staff, including alumnus Weston Bell.

The countless photos taken by Michael Jones Photography, Will Norton, Jamie Tillman, Catharine Hollifield, MBA's amazing parents, students, and faculty.

The help of Nita Snow, Jennifer Howell, Sherie Guye, Angela Power, and especially Kit Lechleiter and Cherie Roberts.

The support of the Finance Office's Sam Jackson, Carrie Lund, Dana Noonan, and Vicki Matthews. Thank you for making our budget work.

The technical assistance of Marc Ardisson, Marcus Piggee, and especially Chris Reynolds.

The help and cooperation of the many faculty and students who have contributed in to this book. We appreciate all of you who cheerfully gathered for group photos, responded to email requests, and provided content and photos. We would especially like to thank Weston Bell, whose tireless work during June made this book's completion possible. We would also like to thank MBA alum and Dr. Zimmerman's husband Phil Zimmerman for his help and lunch deliveries. This year, Baby Zimmerman was incubating as we made this book happen. Dra. Z made this happen after the school year ended, while six months pregnant. We hope that this book showcases the best of MBA. Roll Red Roll.

The first of these is the fact that the book is written in a style which is both simple and direct. The author has taken care to explain the various points in a way which is easy to understand. This is a very important feature of the book, as it makes it suitable for use by a wide range of people. The second point is that the book is well illustrated. The illustrations are clear and helpful, and they are placed in a way which makes them easy to refer to. The third point is that the book is well organized. The chapters are arranged in a logical order, and the material is presented in a way which makes it easy to follow. The fourth point is that the book is well written. The language is clear and concise, and the sentences are well constructed. The fifth point is that the book is well edited. The editing is thorough, and the book is free of errors. The sixth point is that the book is well bound. The binding is sturdy and attractive, and it makes the book easy to handle. The seventh point is that the book is well priced. The price is reasonable, and it makes the book a good value for money. The eighth point is that the book is well reviewed. The reviews are positive, and they praise the book for its clarity, simplicity, and directness. The ninth point is that the book is well known. It is a well-known book, and it is one of the best-selling books in its field. The tenth point is that the book is well used. It is a book which is used by many people, and it is one of the most popular books in its field.
